

from head to below his knees," Jackson told G. Grimsom, state's attorney of North Dakota, who is here assisting the prosecution. "There were also many scars on the head where the whipping boss beat the youngster with the butt end of the whip," Jackson further declared. Jackson said he washed the body and examined each of the many wounds.

ministered by Higginbotham," the witness told Mr. Grimsom. "Tabert was lying on the ground and Higginbotham had his right heel pressing on the boy's neck, which resulted in Tabert's face being pushed deep into the sandy ground. After the whipping was finished I examined the young man and found that his nose was broken and his neck bleeding as the result of the pressure of Higginbotham's heel."

Woman Testifies.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lyles of Cross City, Fla., also testified before the jury. Mrs. Lyles, just before entering the jury room to testify, declared that she and her husband were on a fishing excursion near the convict camp on the day Tabert is alleged to have been whipped.

Summons to Tallahassee.
Tallahassee, Fla., April 11.—Witnesses who appeared before the grand jury at Madison in connection with the death of Martin Tabert, of North Dakota, at a private convict farm, were summoned to Tallahassee to appear before the joint legislative committee set up to investigate the affair, it was announced today.

The committee, the creation of which was one of the first acts of the legislature upon convening April 3, held its first meeting this afternoon and selected Senator John P. Stokes, of Pensacola, as chairman, and Representative C. I. Kennerly, of Palatka, as secretary.

As a start, Mr. Kennerly was instructed to telegraph officials at Madison and have the witnesses gathered there from various states and from many places in Florida to come here. The committee plans to have another meeting tomorrow at which a more definite procedure of action will be mapped out.

Tallahassee Probe.
The grand jury investigation at Madison was concluded today and it is expected that North Dakota state officials who took part in the inquiry there will come to Tallahassee tonight. The course of the joint legislative committee, it is believed, will follow a conference between the committee and these officials tomorrow.

Members of the committee suggested today that the body of young Tabert, when exhumed in Dixie county, might be sent to North Dakota with an escort from the legislature. The committee already is charged with having the body exhumed, preparing it for a "decent" burial and arranging for a suitable funeral in accordance with the wish of Tabert's relatives.

Convict Boss Gives Bond.
MacClenny, Fla., April 11.—John Roddenberry, convict camp boss at the turpentine camp of T. J. Knabb, state senator, in Baker county, who was indicted late yesterday on charge of cruel treatment to prisoners, today was at liberty in $10,000 bond. He pleaded not guilty when arraigned in circuit court and his case was set for trial at the October term.

The indictment was the outgrowth of charges made by Paul Revere White, 17 years old, of Washington, that he had been flogged while in the camp. White was convicted in Alachua county for vagrancy and leased to the turpentine camp.

Joe Jones, Jr., sheriff of Baker county, told the Associated Press tonight that White was brought to his jail February 24 from the camp. White's condition, he said, was "run down from want of medical attention. His feet were swollen, his hands were in bad shape" and "in 10 days I believe he would have been a dead man if he hadn't gotten treatment."

DECLARES TROOPS WERE NOT ORDERED TO SCENE OF RIOT

Springfield, Ill., April 11.—Adjutant General Charles E. Black, testifying this afternoon before the house committee investigating the Herrin rioting, declared he had not ordered troops sent to Williamson county, or asked Governor Small to do so, because he had had no request from Herrin for militia.

General Black asserted that at no time did Colonel Sam N. Hunter, his representative in Williamson county, advise him that the situation was serious enough to warrant troops. He added that the colonel's report, made July 5, was incorrect in many details, but admitted he had not ordered the alleged errors rectified.

Little Profit Made.

These conditions have naturally improved the past twelve months, and it seems unfortunate that the rate areas of all exchanges, which these improved conditions, in view of the fact that for the year 1922 the net earnings on the average investment were only 6.37 per cent, while the same net earnings applied to the appraised value of the property were only 4.63 per cent per annum."

may have discussed the court plan, to which he is strongly opposed.

This all follows the positive declaration Tuesday by an official spokesman of the president that there is nothing whatever in talk that the United States is trying to get into the league.

President Was Warned.
President Harding was warned long in advance that this argument would be raised against his plan. Before it was submitted to the senate, he called in a few influential members and even those who approved of the court idea warned the executive that he would be accused of seeking to join the league.

Opponents of the court plan are displaying the same shrewd skill which enabled them to kill the Versailles treaty. They have started a flank attack by centering their fire on the fact that Great Britain has six votes in the league assembly and would therefore have unique influence in the selection of judges for the tribunal. Administration officials reply that the league council also must approve all judges and that in this body each nation has only one vote.

Another complication has been injected by the activities of Senator George Wharton Pepper, of Pennsylvania, who is making speeches about second only to the armament conference. With those two programs successfully completed, Harding would regard his administration as having court.

Southern first mortgage real estate bonds are furnishing the answer to many investors who are asking, "How can I increase my income without the least sacrifice of safety?" Interest rates in the South are higher than in the older, more thickly settled sections, because the South must attract capital from the outside to promote industrial development and provide for city expansion.

Miller Bonds give the investor the advantage of the liberal Southern interest rate, at the same time safeguarding his funds through scrupulous attention to the security back of each bond issue. Mail the attached coupon for information regarding the South and the way Miller Bonds are created.

FOUR ARE INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Two Arrests Made by Police
Wednesday as Result of Smash-Ups.

As a result of an automobile collision Wednesday afternoon, G. W. Mappin, 25, of 142 Oakland avenue, and A. C. Brown, 25, of 141 East Hunter street, landed in Grady hospital and later in police barracks. Two others were hurt in other accidents.

Mappin, who was driving the automobile, was charged with operating an automobile intoxicated, and Brown, who was riding in the car at the time, was charged with being drunk. The accident occurred on East Hunter street, near King street, when Mappin's auto crashed into the car of J. D. Muldren, 73, who was driving a Buick sedan, which was parked near the curb on Hunter street.

Both Mappin and Brown were badly cut about the face by a broken windshield, and were also severely bruised and shaken.

R. E. Matthews, 40, of 200 Ivy street, was also injured in a smash-up.

The accident occurred in front of Matthews' home, when a heavy motor truck of the Atlantic Ice and Coal corporation struck his car, which police were told was standing still.

The negro driver of the truck jumped out and made his escape before arrival of the police. Officers John D. Wood and Otis Hewell, who investigated the accident, stated that witnesses claimed the negro was driving rapidly at the time.

Sapp in Serious Condition.

R. E. Sapp, of 50 Shelton street, is in Grady hospital in a serious condition as the result of injuries received when he lost control of the heavy sand truck he was driving Wednesday afternoon where the Belmont apartments are being constructed on Ponce de Leon avenue.

At the time of the accident, Sapp is said to have been backing the truck down a bridge used for conveying building materials. The brakes failed to work and he lost control of the truck, it is claimed.

GREER PROPOSES
GRADY MONUMENT
FOR BOYS' HIGH

A resolution providing for appointment of a committee to arrange details for removing the monument of the late Henry W. Grady, one of the south's most famous orators and journalists, from the intersection of Marietta and Forsyth streets to the campus of the new Senior High School for Boys, to be erected soon on the overlooking Piedmont Park, will be introduced in council next Monday by Councilman J. J. Greer, of the third ward, it was announced Wednesday.

Councilman Greer, in defining his motives for having the monument removed, declared there were several reasons why it should be transferred to the school campus, among them being: relief of traffic congestion on Marietta street at this point; protection to the monument from crime and dirt in the heart of the city; and the fact that it would serve as an inspiration to young men attending the high school, which was recently named the Henry W. Grady Senior High School for Boys.

"Henry W. Grady cannot be regarded as an Atlanta celebrity alone," declared Councilman Greer. "He was a Georgian and represented the finest ideals of the entire nation, more especially the south. With a background of one of the city's finest public school buildings and directly overlooking the spacious grounds of Piedmont Park nearby, I am certain that this place would be more appropriate, by far, for the placing of his monument than in the heart of the city where crime and dirt is thickest."

Songsters Votes Show Popularity Of Old Melodies

Songs of Yesterday Given
Highest Place in Nationwide Contest.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 11.—Songs written in the olden days continue to lead in popularity, Kenneth S. Clark, of New York, secretary of the committee on people's songs, declared before the Music Supervisor's National conference here.

Mr. Clark made public a list of songs, which received the highest number of votes from directors of community singing throughout the United States. The list follows:

"America," "Old at Home," "My Old Kentucky Home," "Battle Hymn of the Republic," "Old Black Joe," "Star-Spangled Banner," "Sweet Adeline," "Dixie," "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," "There's a Long Long Trail," "Home Sweet Home," "Till We Meet Again," "I've Been Working on the Railroad," "I'll Be Home Again," "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," "Sweet Genevieve" and "Good Night Ladies."

"This list, Mr. Clark said, will be submitted to the people in the form of a voting contest to determine the favorite song of the American people."

FARM LOAN BOARD
UNDER DISCUSSION WITH PRESIDENT

Washington, April 11.—Available names for appointment as the third republican member of the federal farm loan board were discussed at a conference today between President Harding and Farm Loan Commissioner Lobbell and Elmer Landes, a member of the farm loan board, but whether a decision was reached was not disclosed.

It was learned, however, that W. G. Jamieson, of Colorado, was being given consideration for the place. Former Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, and former Representative A. P. Nelson, of Wisconsin, have been suggested for the appointment.

Announcement of a decision as to the loan board vacancy may come within a few days and the president has let it be known that he expects to fill the "dirt farmer" vacancy of the reserve board, created by the death of Milo D. Campbell, before the end of the month. There has been no dearth of names presented for the latter place, and about the only guide line thrown out at the white house relative to the appointment has been that it will not come from the south.

AT GOODYEAR TIRE
DEALERS' MEETING

A. K. Kroh delivered the principal address at the Atlanta territory annual dealers convention of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company held in the Ansley hotel Wednesday. Mr. Kroh is well known to the members of the tire and automobile trade in Atlanta, having spoken here a number of times.

The meeting was one of information and not of a sales convention. It brought to the tire and automobile dealers a clearer insight into business conditions throughout the country and what may be expected in a business way the next twelve months. G. T. Hutchings, manager of the dealers' department of the Goodyear organization, and K. A. Dalsky of the truck tire department, were among the speakers.

Confederate veterans, the United Daughters of the Confederacy and the Confederate Memorial association will be in attendance at the ceremony. The public is invited to attend.

$9,000,000 ISSUE OF BONDS SOUGHT

Sims Will Support $3,000,000
Waterworks-Park Issue — Sutton Wants $6,000,000 for Schools.

The first gun for a municipal bond issue that would involve approximately $9,000,000 for additional school expansion, Central park development and waterworks extension, was fired Wednesday when Mayor Walter A. Sims and officials of the city school department, announced that such a plan would be proposed to voters of Atlanta at the City primary next September.

Talk of such a bond issue has been heard in the city hall for several months, members of the school department taking the lead. That the movement has gained considerable momentum is evidenced by the fact that a number of council members and other officials of the city government have signified their willingness to co-operate with the mayor and school officials in placing the matter before the electorate.

Superintendent Willis A. Sutton, of the schools department, heartily endorsed Mayor Sims' plan stating that school authorities would seek to have adopted an additional $6,000,000 bond issue for completion of the school improvement program.

Mayor Sims refused to comment on the school bond issue, but stated that he would advocate a bond issue of $3,000,000 to be expended in completing the waterworks expansion program and to develop the Central park project. Of this amount the mayor stated, $1,000,000 could be turned over to the waterworks department and the remaining $2,000,000 to the Central park project.

"Atlanta's future depends on our raising these funds as soon as possible," declared Mayor Sims. "It is my intention to begin work immediately in this direction. There is not a park in the center of Atlanta at the present and the development of this project in my estimation will mean more for Atlanta than anything that has happened here in years."

Superintendent Sutton declared there was pressing need for additional school facilities, and that another school bond issue of between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 would be necessary if such funds were supplied.

BLUFF PROVES COSTLY
Following Threats, Blank-Pistol Found on Nahlit.

As the result of a bluff with a pistol loaded with blank cartridges, Leo Nahlit, of 97 1-2 Garnett street, was arrested in a moving picture house on Whitehall street Wednesday afternoon, and was lodged behind the bars at police station under a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

Nahlit, it is claimed, became bold during a performance and was ordered to move quiet or leave. He refused to do either and, it is said, was ejected from the theater. As he left, he threatened the usher, it is said.

Returning later, he was met at the door by Special Officer L. P. Wheeler, who found the gun on Nahlit's person.

Alleged Radical Held On Conspiracy Charge; Six Men Are Released

Washington, April 11.—The police today released six of the seven men detained in raids here Monday night in which radical literature was seized. Edward J. Irvine, on whom the authorities said they found a letter outlining hopes for the spread of revolutionary documents among government employees, was held on conspiracy charges. Lack of evidence was given as the reason for the discharge of the six men. They are Isadore Jackson, Ludwig Englehart, Clarence Rosenberg, Esa Handelman, William Carl Smoler and Louis Brown.

97 Years of Helpful Progress is a great record.

S.S.S. has stood invincible through the ages

Why? Because S. S. S. is made from Nature's select medicinal herbs—it is purely vegetable. Our own trained men gather them. And—because we extract from them their medicinal principles while they are yet fresh.

Visitors welcomed to our laboratory

We wish you could see our two hundred men in the fields every Winter when "the sap is in the ground" carefully selecting the roots of these herbs, and then follow them to our laboratory (which is always open to visitors), and watch their preparation into the finished medicine—you would be convinced.

What S.S.S. does for the Blood

S. S. S. hits at the very basis of most diseases, because, by furnishing the organs with fighting blood, it enables the organs to fight off disease. Pure blood is the world's greatest fighter. S. S. S. is the most powerful blood-cleanser and blood-cell builder in existence. As it builds up your blood-cells, every organ in your body feels increased activity, your elimination is improved, your secretions are stimulated, the accumulation of waste products and impurities decreases, your appetite is improved, cell-tissue is increased, your weight is built up to normal, appearance of age is lessened, vigor is increased, complexion clears, rheumatic pains leave. All this, because more blood-cells enable the blood to fight and get the strength and richness which Nature intended it to have. S. S. S. does it!

Fortify your Blood

S. S. S. has solved the problem of health and strength for millions. It is based on Nature's common-sense. A trial of S. S. S. will prove the fact. When you have proven it, our greatest reward will be that we have lifted you out of physical distress, given back to your body its birthright to health, and made another mortal heart happy.

S.S.S. is recommended for:

Pimples, Boils, Eruptions, Blackheads, Blotches, Acne, Rash, Tetter or Eczema, Rheumatism, Poor Blood, Weak Spills, Run-down Condition, Loss of Appetite, Nervousness, Thinness, Poor Complexion, Scrawny Neck, Thin Limbs, Hollow Cheeks.

Mr. W. T. Hooker, 2324 Proctor Street, Port Arthur, Texas, writes: "I suffered from Eczema for seven years and was afflicted with nervousness. I tried S. S. S. and six bottles cured me. I now enjoy good health. I think S.S.S. the only sure cure for blood disorders on the market."

S.S.S. is sold by all good druggist.

MAKES STRONG BID FOR "OPEN SHOP"

Head of Locomotive Works Scores Efforts of Samuel Gompers to Abolish Movement.

Houston, Texas, April 11.—Taking a stand for the "open shop" and attacking Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, as an enemy of progress, Samuel M. Vancian, president of the Baldwin Locomotive works, of Philadelphia, today addressed business men at a luncheon here.

"I am for this so-called 'open shop movement,'" he said, "I have had an open shop all my life and will have one as long as I live. My shop opens at 7 o'clock every morning and I am there to see that it is open. I see that my employees are there, my clerks and foremen.

"I believe in labor union, but I believe in only one and that is the one with the constitution that was written in 1776; the one that provides that a man may work where he pleases, for whom he pleases, and when he pleases. The workmen in my shop work ten hours each day and can work longer if they care. My night men are there 14 hours and they, too, can work longer. Work is the curse for industrial life.

"Mr. Vancian discussed 'world's business and the influence on the world's business of transportation companies.' He spoke of conditions abroad and said the railroads had brought about progress where chaos had reigned.

"General business of the country depends entirely on its transportation system," he said, "and unless the railroads and other carriers are cared for, the nation cannot flourish. Some claim that rates are too high. In fact, I read in the newspapers recently that President Harding would soon stomp the country in favor of lower rates. I can't believe it. If it were announced that he would stomp in high rates it would be more opportune."

"Gompers is making threats as to what dire mishap will befall President Harding in the event he declares in favor of the open shop. Who is he to make such statements and what has he done and what is he doing to build up industries?

JONES WILL DIRECT RED CROSS PUBLICITY

Turner Jones, director of public relations for the Southern Enterprise, Inc., was appointed a member of the executive committee of the Atlanta chapter of the American Red Cross Tuesday afternoon and it is announced that he will act as publicity chairman for the local chapter.

Mr. Jones is a well known Atlanta, formerly having been associated with The Constitution. He served as an officer in the tank corps during the world war. He has been an active director in the better films committee movement as director of public relations for the Southern Enterprises.

BEAVERS IS URGED TO ATTEND MEETING

Police Chief James L. Beavers was complimented Wednesday in a telegraphic invitation he received from Commissioner Richard Enright, of the New York police system, urging him to attend the convention of International Association of Police Chiefs to be held in that city May 13.

Chief Beavers had previously written Commissioner Enright that he would be unable to attend the convention this year, but Commissioner Enright insisted that Chief Beavers' counsel would be of benefit to the organization.

CLASH PROBABLE OVER RUM RULE

voyage, which may lead it eventually into The Hague tribunal for settlement or perhaps finally into the international court of justice, provided the country becomes a party to that court before settlement is made elsewhere.

The state department, in making its decision, accepted the view of the department of justice, which has ruled that the provision in the shipping board contract was valid. Secretary Hughes, on receipt of Canada's protest, asked opinions from both the department of justice and the department of commerce.

The ruling of the state department has presented a brand new problem in international affairs. Since no case of exactly this nature has ever before been admitted into the always shadowy precincts of international law, its settlement will establish a precedent and its progress will therefore be very jealously watched by every maritime nation in the world.

Refuses Registry.

Canada has already refused to grant registry to vessels—two small ships—now on the Great Lakes, which were bought under the terms provided in the shipping board contract. It holds that this does not give a clear title to the vessels. Canada's position is taken to be that of Great Britain's as well as of other nations which have not yet made their views known.

The next step will probably be protests from other countries which will perhaps force the question into some form of arbitration, most likely into the old Hague tribunal, where division as to its validity might involve considerable time.

No one realizes better than Secretary Hughes what complications his decision is likely to produce. A close student of law, he deliberated for several weeks before deciding the case. As an obstruction to argument with the department of justice, there was the violation of the ordinary law of contract which this provision of shipping board contracts seemed to contain.

To what extent political considerations entered into the decision is not known. Prohibition forces have waged a steady fight to keep American ships dry forever, since their victory last October when the department of justice ruled that no ships with liquor cargoes could enter American ports.

The note to Canada has not yet been made public by the state department. It is understood to be quite lengthy and to go in great detail into the reasons for the decision.

40,000 Visitors Will Be Served At Elk Barbecue

World's Greatest Outdoor Feed to Be Prepared by Local Caterer.

The thousands of Elks who attend the Elk convention to be held here in July will have an opportunity not only to see a real barbecue, run after the fashion of those that grandmas and grandpas used to attend, but to see what is expected to be the largest barbecue ever held, Elbert L. Thornton, well-known Atlanta caterer, who is in charge of the barbecue, told a Constitution reporter Wednesday.

"Not only will we have enough food for 40,000 guests, but we will have old Chief Leonard, famed for the distinction a taste of the 'big game' why when you are born and 'raised' down south, you stay."

Speaking again in large numbers, Mr. Thornton said that 100,000 rolls would be cooked, which, if placed end to end would probably reach three around Stone mountain. In erecting the tables 80,000 feet of lumber will be used to cover the tops of the tables only.

Concluding, Mr. Thornton stated that with Chief Leonard directing the preparation of the luscious meats, it would not be out of order to concede that the vast number of persons will leave the barbecue and Atlanta with the feeling that when they become president, they're coming to Atlanta so Chief Leonard can cook them a meal.

Rotarians' Sons Conduct Meeting; "Show Dads Up"

Youngsters Offer Resolution to Buy "Old" Atlanta Biltmore Hotel.

How the Rotary club of Atlanta will be conducted 20 years from now, in addition to a number of character sketches of all of them composed and presented by the sons of Atlanta Rotarians, featured the weekly luncheon at the Capital City club Wednesday noon. The boys had charge of the entire meeting.

One of the most interesting stunts pulled by the youngsters was the staging of a mock Rotary meeting, as it will look 20 years hence. Several moves were introduced by the future Rotarians, among them being "that the club purchase the old Atlanta-Biltmore hotel and completely remodel it for use as club rooms." This motion was immediately "adopted" by the future Rotarians.

During the luncheon the Rotary boys' band offered a number of musical selections.

Painful Rheumatic Swellings Disappear

Discoverer Tells Druggists Not To Take a Cent of Anyone's Money Unless Allenrhu Completely Banishes All Rheumatic Pains and Twinges.

Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called ALLENRHU, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed druggists everywhere to dispense ALLENRHU with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment. All druggists can supply you.—(adv.)

WANT HENRY FORD FOR PRESIDENT

1,600 Sign Petitions to Place Auto Manufacturer on Nebraska Progressive Primary Ballot.

Omaha, Neb., April 11.—Petitions requesting that the name of Henry Ford, Dearborn, Mich., automobile manufacturer, be placed on the primary ballot of the progressive party in Nebraska in 1924, for president, were filed late today with the secretary of state. The petitions contained more than 1,600 names.

The filing of the petitions in Nebraska today was the beginning of a national mobilization of the progressive party of America in support of Henry Ford for president. Roy M. Harrop, president of the American Economic league, which is sponsoring the Ford-for-president movement, declared.

BOND COMMISSION DELAYS APPROVAL

been thoroughly examined by the commission's school committee. This protest was made despite appeals from members of the education board including President W. W. Gaines, Commissioner W. L. McCalley, Jr., chairman of the finance and building committee, and Commissioner John T. Hancock, all of whom stressed the need for immediate action in order that work on the new high school might be begun immediately.

A Ten Eyck Brown, supervising architect of the high school plans, told members of the commission that contracts for erection of the school plant had been obtained several weeks ago while building materials and labor conditions were in a more favorable state than now. He declared that should the contracts be rejected and bids advertised anew, the cost of erecting the school would probably exceed the present contract price of $461,000 by approximately $50,000 or $75,000.

Money is Available.

Questions from bond commission members as to the amount of money now available in the school department for erection of the Senior High school for girls, were asked of board members. Assurances from President Gaines, Commissioner McCalley and Hancock that the Girls' High school would receive the same attention and almost a similar amount of money as the Boys' Senior High school were forthcoming to these questions.

The board expects to expend approximately $448,000 on the Girls' High school," declared Commissioner McCalley, "and we can assure the bond commission that work on the two high schools will begin almost simultaneously if our present plans are permitted to materialize. There is not one member of the board of education who is not as anxious to see work begun on the Girls' High school as on the Boys' High school."

Mr. McCalley explained that the survey on school property to be abandoned by the board for the purpose of ascertaining its real value before it is sold, and from which the board anticipates raising around $850,000, is nearing completion and will be in shape to be placed on the market within a short time.

FRACTURED SKULL MAY PROVE FATAL, CHAUFFEUR HELD

New York, April 11.—John Floyd, a chauffeur, who deserted his taxicab last night after plowing through a group of women of Salvation Army workers marching across Washington Heights bridge, injuring nine of them, was arrested today, charged with assault. He told the police he had turned to avoid a collision with a trolley pole and his car plunged into the marchers.

One of the injured, Miss Mabel Coleman, 18 years old, has a fractured skull and may die. The others who were not seriously hurt, were taken to the Salvation Army college in the Bronx.

LACK OF BALLAST GIVEN AS CAUSE OF DERAILMENT

Washington, April 11.—The failure of officials in the truck department of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway to provide sufficient ballast at the point on its line where a passenger train was derailed February 26, near Calhoun, Ga., was chief responsible for the accident, concerned safety inspectors reported today to the interstate commerce commission after closing an investigation. Two persons were killed and 34 injured in the accident.

Third Day's Own Your Home Show Attendance Shows Interest in Exhibition Is Mounting

Out-of-Town Visitors Help to Swell Throng at Auditorium—"Tax-Payers' Day" Today.

Those who were under the impression that about everybody in Atlanta had visited the "Own Your Home" exposition during the first two days were evidently mistaken, because records kept at the door showed that the attendance last night was far in excess of that of either previous night, and that in spite of the fact that Tuesday night's attendance more than doubled that of opening night. Many were of the opinion that the exceptionally large attendance has been due to the fact that numbers of interested persons are making return visits to the exposition.

From the standpoint of attendance alone, the exposition has already proven a success, in the opinion of R. W. Evans, chairman of the "Own Your Home" committee of the Atlanta Real Estate Board. S. W. Bacon, Jr., and J. Clark Brown, directors of the exposition. Exhibitors and others interested in the movement appeared highly pleased with the interest shown in the exposition so far by the public, and it is being freely predicted that the attendance for the week will far exceed that of last year, many expressing the belief that the number will be double that of last year.

Interest Is Manifest. Not only is the attendance gratifying in point of number, but also from the standpoint of the genuine interest being manifested in the movement and the exhibits. It is reported that many sales have already resulted from the exposition, not only of real estate, material, etc., but also of equipment, fixtures and turnishing goods displayed at the show. In addition, hundreds of visitors to the exposition have declared their intentions were to build homes in the near future, and it seems certain that the exposition will result in a greatly renewed stimulus to the already record-breaking building activities in and around Atlanta.

Every indication seems that Atlanta will be well housed in the near future and that for months to come the music of hammer and saw will be heard on every side.

Numerous visitors to the exposition have been heard to say that they considered the "Own Your Home" movement the biggest for the advancement of Atlanta that has ever been launched here.

Women In Majority. Throughout the day yesterday the auditorium was comfortably filled with visitors. Most of them were women, but there was a fair sprinkling of men, and it was noticeable that among the daytime visitors were many from nearby Georgia towns and cities. Among the out-of-town visitors were several from as far away as Savannah, Macon and Augusta.

All day long the crowds gradually increased, until last night, when the big auditorium was literally thronged, some going and others coming. Every station in life was represented, from those whose idea of a home is a modest little cottage near the car line, to those who dream of mansions.

While stating that it would be too much to expect the attendance today to exceed that of Wednesday, the directors and exhibitors are expecting no let up in interest, and are anticipating another busy day.

"Taxpayers' Day." Today will officially be "Business Men's and Taxpayers' Day," which, of course, includes women.

A feature that is growing in popularity each night is the dancing in Taft hall, which begins nightly at 9 o'clock and continues until closing time.

Still another feature attracting much interest is the registering at various booths where it has been announced valuable awards will be given away, among them $50 in cash by Sears & Roebuck and a $100 bond by the Mortgage and Bond company.

PORTIA IS NEEDED TO SETTLE VALUE OF PINT OF BLOOD

Seattle, Wash., April 11.—A modern Portia is needed here to stand down another Slylock indictment. A jury in the superior court Tuesday faced the task of settling the value of a pint of blood.

The case started over a blood transfusion administered a year ago, and now Arthur Castellani, waiter, a price of $5,000 on the pint of blood that he lost during the operation.

Dominick Bosello, the defendant in the suit, has offered for defense the fact that he was unconscious when the transfusion was made and knew nothing of it until afterwards, and consequently could not have agreed to pay Castellani any definite price for the blood.

Mary Landon Baker Adopts Quiet Life, No Thrills Expected

Chicago, April 11.—The world has had its last thrill out to Mary Landon Baker.

Mary, who achieved fame through her habit of leaving Alister McCormick "waiting at the church," returned here Tuesday determined to settle down to a quiet, normal life just like any other millionaire daughter on the local "gold coast," and not a single reporter or photographer was at the station to meet her.

"There isn't going to be any more written about Mary, because she isn't going to do anything to write about," announced Mary's sister, Mrs. Robert M. Curtis.

So this may be the very last word.

SIX ARE INDICTED IN FLOGGING CASE

Nine Men Are Now Being Held to Face Charges of Having Whipped Dr. Dowling.

Birmingham, Ala., April 11.—Six men were today indicted by the Jefferson county grand jury in connection with the flogging of Dr. J. D. Dowling, city and county health officer on May 17, last year, and capias will be asked at once in order that the men may be apprehended, it was announced at the solicitor's office. Until the capias are issued, the names of those indicted will not be made public, it was explained.

Latest action of the grand jury brings the number of indictments to nine, three men having been indicted last week. Three other men are under bond in connection with the case, besides the nine indicted by the grand jury.

Dr. Dowling was beaten, according to the theory of authorities because of his zeal in enforcing health laws. It was announced at the solicitor's office that among the men today indicted were Sam Cargo, dairyman, Tarrant City; J. F. Ford, dairyman, Mount Pleasant; George Moore, former city street commissioner, and C. W. Tyson, dairy hand. Tyson was arrested several days ago by federal agents who quoted him as saying he and nine other men took part in the flogging.

In reply to your question, Chlois, as to the first thing we'd do should we suddenly come into possession of a million dollars, we have no hesitation in saying that we would immediately fall in a fit of nervous prostration.

PROSPERITY TIDE DROWNS ORATORY

ures produced by the reorganized authorities on such matters are accurate. The Wisconsin progressives, socialist and radical, is intentionally wrong or out of touch with passing events because even radicalism has not kept prosperity from Wisconsin.

The most impressive political and economic phases in Wisconsin show that nine-tenths of the complaints uttered by the man on the street and the man on the farm are directed not against the federal but toward the state government. The ill of which the benighted citizens of reactionary centers like New York complain are the same as those which afflict the citizen of the "Perfect State" which Senator Robert M. La Follette started in to set up a generation ago.

Complaint Against State.

The citizens of Wisconsin complain bitterly of the state taxes wrung from them to support Mr. La Follette's personally conducted state government. They apparently resent the paying of the state's share of the national cost even while he decries the necessity for doing so.

The farmers and dairymen whose perplexities never fail to inspire both barbs and pathos from Mr. La Follette, suffer a good deal more from the failures of the "Perfect State" than from those of the federal government though Mr. La Follette most artfully passes the buck.

The farmer is no more prosperous than he was before Mr. La Follette set up his machinery to remove all agricultural ills. In the towns the citizens of Wisconsin pay twenty percent more than New Yorkers or Detroiters for riding on the street cars. In little and big towns there is the same universal complaint of inadequate school accommodations. Businesses conducted on established conservative lines protest against the system of state taxation which discourages expansion and the promotion of new ventures.

Economic Situation.

Business men, farmers and politicians of all shades agree that there is something wrong with the economic situation. Business is better by an average spread of 30 per cent than it was a year ago; labor is scarcer than since mid-war days. Yet business generally does not yield as large a return on investment. The mounting cost of production is one reason for this and labor has little room to find fault with the share of such costs that fall to it.

Another deterrent is the La Follette policy of making it as hard for business to thrive as possible. His legislature is giving an example of its adherence to that policy now. Mr. La Follette's system for running the state is flawless. There is no chance for him to lose. He merely proposes, his agents dispose. If the results are not satisfactory he sheds the blame.

He baits the railways, Standard Oil, the steel trust, Wall street and all the ogres that provide La Follette progressives, radical farmers, labor combinations, socialists and revolutionaries of the red type with talking points. The further away the quarry the better and safer for Mr. La Follette. At home he acts as umpire between two groups competing for his support. He always sides with the one that develops the maximum of popular support. He steers a course that holds in line the most powerful of political units, chiefly the socialists. That is why Mr. La Follette always gets the support of the socialist when he wants it.

A layman who depends on casual information and interpretation finds it difficult to distinguish between the programs of the various political groups that negotiate alliances of convenience with Mr. La Follette's party—the "Wisconsin progressives" as they call themselves, the socialists, the extreme radicals hovering on the non-partisan league element and the reds made up of outlaw labor units. All of these come to the relief of Mr. La Follette when he sounds the call to arms.

La Follette Programs.

Mr. La Follette has two programs, one national, the other state. He plays one off against the other. His national program covers up what he fails to do in the state and vice versa. Mr. La Follette may be shy of many qualities that make for character, but there's no disputing his skill as a manipulator of politics. He takes all of the cream, his aids and dupes the skim.

Just now Mr. La Follette is credited with concentrating his political ability which is of admitted high order on his national program, and furtively watching his lawmakers at Madison, the state capitol, out of the fall of his eye. His henchmen predict that he will produce a national program that every farmer and laboring man, every socialist and red propagandist will hail with joy. They further predict that his program will (1) compel the republican party to nominate him for president or (2) face disaster in the general election next year.

The confidence of republicans elsewhere that Mr. Harding will be re-nominated is flouted among the followers of Mr. La Follette. The president is described as "hopelessly reactionary," the "tool of the predatory interests" which Mr. Berger's socialist newspaper blatantly asserts is destroying the country.

High Court Suggestion.

In no other section was Mr. Harding's suggestion that the United States become a member of the international high court of justice received with more interest than in Wisconsin. Progressive, socialist, fascist and pro-German elements expressed complete disapproval of the plan developed by Mr. Hughes and sponsored by the president.

It was not surprising, of course, that popular sentiment in Wisconsin where pro-German sentiment runs very strong, should be hostile to any gesture toward participation in European affairs; but it is significant that even the minority conservative wing of the republican party which opposes Mr. La Follette and supports the president should view unfavorably the high court plan.

In the opinion of spokesmen for this wing the president played directly into the hands of the elements which are now supporting Mr. La Follette and provided the latter with a most effective weapon to bedevil the republican party. The conservatives believe that Mr. Harding can be nominated if he wants to be. They are not sure on the last point.

They do not believe Mr. La Follette can break down the barriers of regular opposition. But they do believe he will be able to break his own record for making trouble, in which field he is without a national rival. Mr. La Follette's Wisconsin intimates have very good reason to know that he is "hot on the trail" of the Harding administration. Features of his state program are daily exploited in states where his prospective allies like Brookhart, of Iowa; Frazier, of North Dakota; Howells, of Nebraska, are grooming for the next congressional term. Mr. La Follette's press campaign

Progressive bureau are most active at Washington under the critical eye of the leader, laying the foundation for the campaign of discontent which is to open up when congress convenes.

Attack Foreign Policy.

The foreign policy of the Harding administration will be attacked from every angle. The high court scheme will be described as "a democratic triumph." The attitude of the Wisconsin democracy justifies this classification. Every democratic leader in the state is for it though the party itself doesn't amount to much. It polled only 63,000 votes last autumn when Mr. La Follette supported by progressives, socialists, radicals and rebels won by 316,000.

Wisconsin democrats badly organized, generally more socialistic than democratic, do not appear to have any preference in the matter of issues or individuals. But they are quite ready to follow the leadership of Woodrow Wilson if he cares to assert it.

In the respect the members of all political sects are in accord, at least in the eyes. They want the Volstead act repealed or modified. Attempts at enforcement of it have been attended by quite as much scandal as elsewhere but the supply of bootleg liquor apparently not curtailed.

Good beer is to be had and the families of Teutonic origin are producing various palatable beverages of substantial alcoholic content to insure a satisfactory supply. This is especially the case in the socialist quarter where little respect is shown for the American constitution of statutory laws.

Victor Berger, socialist leader, elected to congress after being thrown out for alleged sedition, continues to preach the doctrines of his cult modified to general terms to avoid complications that may shut him out again. He's singing a mild form of socialism, sans force, for the time being.

"Advanced" Projects.

Some of the "advanced" projects which Mr. La Follette's legislature is debating are worth a line or two. A labor bill making the eight-hour law compulsory and forbidding extra time, exempts the farmer. A measure known as "the exclusive rights bill" would compel a producer to sell his wares at one price regardless of quantity.

A truth-in-fabric bill would require a shoe manufacturer to tag each kind of leather used in a shoe. Another measure of the same sort would compel the maker of clothes to show how many threads of wool was used in each square inch of cloth.

A bill to compel a traveling salesman using a motor car in his business to pay a license of $75 is under consideration. The only opposition encountered by Mr. La Follette in running his legislature came from within his own family. It was over a bill to abolish the national guard Governor Blaine and Mr. La Follette opposed it. Mrs. La Follette wanted it passed.

Grip Is On Tight.

Mr. La Follette's grip on the legislature, counting the socialist representation is air tight. He controls 20 of the 33 republican senators. Governor Blaine, who desires a third term, on Mr. Lenroot's job in the senate, is described by the conservative leaders as "an able but timid man." Mr. La Follette is playing him off against Attorney General Ekern, the field marshal of the La Follette forces at Madison. Blaine is dry, Ekern wet. Mr. La Follette is for both at the moment.

Three wings of the party are engaged in a first class row over taxation against which there is a popular yelp of protest, particularly from the farmer, who thinks he's paying too stiff a price for his crops. Mr. La Follette's "Perfect State" Taxation, as said, is the bane of human existence in Wisconsin, meaning state and not federal taxation, of course. Even the socialist complains against the toll on his toil to support the politicians commanded by Mr. La Follette. Taxation comes next to the socialist disapproval of the general prosperity which renders calamitous howling, ineffective and unimpressive.

To Issue Complaints
On Charge of Murder
In Ballantyne Case

Salt Lake City, April 11.—Issuance against one or more persons of complaints charging murder in connection with the slaying here Monday of Benjamin F. Ballantyne, former bank teller, was delayed today when officials announced that further investigation of alleged contradictory elements of statements by principals in the case was in progress.

Announcement was made during the day by County Attorney Moreton that informations were being prepared against John M. Browning, Jr., son of inventor, and his cousin, Marriner Browning, who are being held in connection with the case. The complaints had not been filed tonight.

BEATING IN-LAWS CHARGED TO MAN; MUST FACE TRIAL

Because he persistently beat his sister-in-law, Miss Alma Banks, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Laura Banks, both of 37 West Peachtree place, H. A. Wagner, was bound over to superior court and his bond fixed at $300 Wednesday afternoon by Judge George E. Johnson.

Mrs. Banks testified that Wagner and his wife lived in the same house with her and her children and that they were afraid of him when he was intoxicated, which was often. Both Mrs. Banks and her daughter declared that Wagner had struck them Tuesday afternoon because they tried to persuade him not to annoy his wife while she was at work in a downtown store. He became enraged, they said, and so abused them that the police were called. Call Officer Clarkshaw answered the summons.

Wagner stated that it was merely a ruse on the part of his wife's family to get him out of the way. He claimed that he paid the rent on the home in which they all lived and denied striking his mother-in-law.

HARVEY TO ENTER POLITICAL FIELD?

Impending Visit of Ambassador Believed to Forecast Retirement From Diplomatic Life.

Washington, April 11.—The impending visit of Ambassador George Harvey is believed by many here to forecast his retirement from diplomatic life and his return to active politics before the 1934 presidential campaign gets far along.

Harvey has been suggested as the logical man to conduct the president's campaign for re-election. But whether this comes to pass, it is known that Harding would like to have the famous editor on hand to advise him during the troublesome political days that lie ahead.

Harvey has done his work at London. He was instrumental in negotiating the British debt funding agreement. He feels that this achievement is sufficient to enable him to retire with a creditable record.

First Love Is Politics.

Harvey's first love is politics and he is known to have a desire to get back into the fight again. Whether he would be chairman of the republican national committee, as has been proposed, is doubtful. His talents run not as much to organizing as to directing party strategy. During the front porch campaign, he spent more time in Marion than any other adviser of Harding. He assisted in the preparation of the most important speeches. Practically every utterance dealing with foreign affairs was scrutinized by him.

In view of the bitter fight over the international court proposal, Harvey's presence would be especially desirable. He knows the lay of the land on the other side. He also had the confidence of the irreconcilable senators, having assisted them in their senate fight against the Versailles treaty and having helped to write the league plank in the party platform at Chicago.

At the state department, it was said Harvey had asked for leave to bring his wife back to the United States.

Return Is Doubtful.

It is doubtful if he will return to England but may go back to clean up loose ends in event he decides to abandon the London post. When he was here with the British debt funding mission, it was reported that he might be made secretary of state in event Hughes should retire. But there is no likelihood that Hughes will resign. The latter is just beginning his campaign for the international court.

President Harding may desire to postpone his political campaign for another year but the wheel horses of the party are clamping at their bits. Fred W. Upshaw, treasurer of the republican national committee, first cleaning up the half-million dollar deficit left from the 1920 campaign, is here consulting with party leaders regarding the collection of money for the 1924 fight. Chairman, John T. Adams, of the republican national committee, is due back at his office Friday after a trip to Europe.

Has Board of Strategy.

Thus whether Harding wants it or not, he will have a board of strategy on his hands from now on, advising him as to political conditions, party organization and preparations for the nominating convention and the selection of delegates thereto.

Although President Harding appears inclined to blame the press for assuming that he is a candidate for re-election, it is noted that almost every prominent leader of the party has publicly stated that the president will seek re-election. Senator Watson, of Indiana, made the first declaration in the senate nearly three months ago. Attorney General Daugherty repeated the announcement at Miami, Fla., recently. Since then Vice President Coolidge, Secretary of War Weeks, senators and many national committee men have made statements.

Plan Revival Services.

Bainbridge, April 11.—(Special.)—Members of the Christian church have engaged the services of Mr. J. M. Barfield and a singer, both of North Carolina, to conduct a revival for Christians at the church. As the Christians are without a church, the meetings will be held in the court house, in the evenings only, after Sunday.

Miss Mildred Patton Thanks Southern Business College For Securing Her a Good Position

Atlanta's Big Boom Is Booming the Southern Business College.

Students of the Southern Shortland and Business University continue to secure splendid positions, several having gone with large and important firms this week.

One young lady pupil began at $75 per month, with the promise of $100 after the first month.

A young man accepted a fine bookkeeper's position, and another a splendid place as general office assistant.

Atlanta is growing more rapidly than ever before, and many of the newcomers are enrolling at the Southern Business College for commercial training.

Monday, April 10, seems to be a favorite date on which to begin business courses, as quite a number have already sent in their applications for entrance at that time.

It is gratifying to the managers of the Southern to know that their pupils are satisfied with their training and that they give satisfaction to their employers. These facts, which have become known to the outside world, have made this school the most popular business training institution in the South. Its patronage is large and is increasing daily.

Miss Mildred Patton thinks well of the Southern, and the Southern's faculty think well of her. She has taken a business course and now abundant success will surely be her reward, as she has recently accepted an excellent position as stenographer with the McCure Wholesale Co., one of Atlanta's enterprising firms. Read her letter below:

Atlanta, Ga., April 6, 1933. Southern Shortland and Business University, Atlanta, Ga.

Gentlemen:

I think that the Southern Shortland and Business University is the very best school of its kind in the South, and at any time I can speak a word for it. I am glad to do so.

Not only are the teachers and directors competent, courteous and kind, but they are ever inspiring their pupils to better efforts and more thorough work.

I wish to thank them, as does every one who attends this school, for their interest and helpfulness in securing positions for their students. They secured a good position for me after four months' study.

It will ever be a pleasure to recommend to any young man or woman desiring the best business training a course at the Southern.

With kindest regards, I am, Yours very truly,

(MISS) MILDRED PATTON.

Enter now and be ready for a position during the coming fall. Call on Atlanta's most prominent business men and ask them to refer you to a genuinely good business school, and you'll then enroll at the Southern.

PLAN HYDRO PLANT NEAR TUSCALOOSA

Alabama Power Company Files Petition for Certificate of Construction. Super-Power System.

Birmingham, Ala., April 11.—The Alabama Power company plans to build at once a large hydro-electric plant at Lock 17 on the Warrior river near Tuscaloosa, it was announced here today by R. A. Mitchell, in charge of this branch of the corporation's activities. The plant will be linked with the southeastern super-power system which embraces lines running to the Virginia line, it was announced.

Petition was today filed with the Alabama public service commission for certificate of construction of power facilities and hearing has been set for April 23. The company has also asked license for the improvement from the federal water power commission.

The plant to be erected will be modern in every particular, Mr. Mitchell said, and work will begin on the plant as soon as state and federal authority is granted.

Working to Secure 1924 Conventions For San Francisco

San Francisco, Cal., April 11.—In an effort to bring one or both of the 1924 political conventions to this city, the citizens' group working to secure the meeting, announced a fund of $250,000 to pay the expenses of the sessions had been raised. The democratic national convention met here in 1920.

HARRIS BROTHERS TELL OF ACCIDENT

one of the victims, present in the court room assisting the defense, and Mrs. W. S. Gorman, widow of the other victim sworn and slated to testify for the defense, counsel for Kontz introduced various witnesses Wednesday in substantiation of the claim that the accident was unavoidable because of the dense fog on the night when the accident occurred.

Harris Tell Story.

On direct examination by Attorney Reuben Arnold, counsel for Kontz, in the manslaughter trial, the Harris brothers told the jury that Kontz was driving at a rate of 15 or 20 miles an hour when he saw Henry jump in the path of his machine. Kontz swerved suddenly to the left, striking the grinding apparatus, they added.

The fog was so dense that it was impossible to see the grinding machine, they said, until they were within a few feet of it.

Cross-examination by Solicitor Boykin brought admission from Stuart Harris that Kontz had driven from the Capital City club at an average speed of possibly 30 miles an hour. Harris added that Kontz had slowed down somewhat before reaching Twelfth street owing to the curve which begins at Eleventh street.

Harris Testimony Surprise.

Introduction of the Harris brothers, who are grandsons of the late Joel Chandler Harris, came as a surprise to the large throng of spectators, as it had not been generally known that the automobile had been occupied by anyone save Kontz at the time of the tragedy.

Joel Chandler Harris, III, was the first of the brothers to testify. He said that he saw Kontz at the wedding of Wilmer Moore, Jr., at the North Avenue Presbyterian church and later at the wedding reception on Fourteenth street. Harris said that after Kontz took his parents, Judge and Mrs. E. C. Kontz, to their residence, he returned to the Harris residence and got him and Stuart, his brother.

Going to the Terminal station to participate in the gayeties incident in the departure of the Moores on their honeymoon, he and Stuart Harris and Kontz found the train had gone and the party had dispersed. They then went to a dance at the Capital City club and stayed until nearly 12:30 o'clock, he said.

Tells of Crash.

Returning home out Peachtree, the witness said, he occupied the front seat with Kontz, who was driving. Stuart Harris was on the rear seat. As the machine crossed Twelfth street, he said, a man suddenly appeared in front of the car. Kontz turned his machine to the left and it struck the grinding machine on which were working Hunter and Gorman, according to the witness.

Both said they did not notice any red lights except the lanterns within a few feet of the grinding machine.

Cross-examination the Harris brothers said they did not hear Kontz make a remark shortly after the accident to the effect that he had been driving too fast.

John A. Manget Testifies.

The first witness of the afternoon session Wednesday was John A. Manget, cotton merchant, who said that he passed Peachtree and Twelfth streets at 11 o'clock, or about an hour and a half prior to the accident, and that the fog was so dense he could not distinguish the grinding machine until he was within about 75 or 100 feet of it.

Lynn Werner, insurance man, testified that he passed Peachtree and Twelfth streets late that night and was within 15 or 20 feet of the grinding machine before he saw it.

John Robinson, salesman for the Stutz Sales company, testified that he drove by the scene of the accident about 11 o'clock and found it to be very foggy. He said that the only lights he saw were two red lights near the grinding machine and a white light on a half prior to the accident.

Dr. W. L. Gilbert, physician, said that he saw the grinding machine about an hour before the accident and saw only one red light. It was placed about six feet from the apparatus, he testified.

Several prominent Atlantans testified for the defense during the morning session, their testimony purporting to show machine with lights of warning were not in place and that the density of the fog made it difficult to see the grinding machine, and that Kontz was not speeding, as is charged, by the state.

Car Driving Slowly.

A. F. McIntyre, manager of the Fulton Bag and Cotton mills, told the jury that he had seen a car of the same make as Kontz's machine about 15 or 20 miles an hour at Peachtree and Eleventh street and a few minutes later he heard a crash in the direction of Twelfth street.

W. L. Fain, of 65 Elmwood drive, testified to practically the same thing except that his observation was made at Tenth street.

Forrest Adair, Jr., told of narrowly missing the grinding machine with his car, due to the fog.

William Oldknow stated that he had almost struck one of the workmen at the grinding machine with his automobile because he could not see it until he had almost reached it.

Others offering similar testimony were Frank G. Thell, S. S. Price, Winifred Peters, Henry W. Grad and Frank H. Inman.

The trial recessed at 4 o'clock Wednesday until 9:30 o'clock this morning when the commission on temperance and social service, as one of the official delegates from the United States to the international congress on alcoholism, which meets at Copenhagen, Denmark, August 20-22.

Mistrial Is Refused.

When the trial was resumed Wednesday morning Solicitor Boykin urged Judge Seay to declare a mistrial because of published newspaper reports of the attitude taken by Mrs. W. T. Hunter, widow of one of the victims, who was quoted as saying she desired that the charges against Kontz be dismissed.

Judge Seay overruled the motion saying that he "cannot control what a woman wants to say."

"She has a right to say what she pleases," Judge Seay said. "I will, however, instruct the jury that they should not take into consideration any newspaper stories but should be governed in their verdict by the law and the evidence."

WANT U. S. TO AID WORLD PROBLEMS

Woman's Council of M. E. Church South Presses for Full Share of Responsibility.

Mobile, Ala., April 11.—A resolution calling on the United States to accept its full share of responsibility for bringing about an effective settlement of international problems was adopted today by the delegates in session at the thirteenth annual session of the woman's council of the Methodist Episcopal church, South. A copy of the resolution was ordered sent to President Harding and Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes of the United States.

The resolution urged that the conference societies and auxiliaries of the council adopt similar resolutions and forward the same to the president, secretary of state and to the senators and congressmen of their respective states.

The resolution stated that the council indorses the position of the commission on international justice and good will of the federal council. "The churches have declared and must declare their conviction that generous and unselfish co-operation among the nations is absolutely necessary to cope with the present hunger, strife, uncertainty and despair of the world; that the United States should take the initiative in calling an international conference to consider world conditions, including the tragic situation in the Near East in the endeavor to bring order and peace to the suffering world."

The council also indorsed the proposed federal amendment to the child labor law which provides "that the congress shall have power concurrent with that of the several states to limit or prohibit the labor of persons under the age of 18 years."

The council also indorsed a resolution calling upon President Harding to appoint Bishop James Cannon, Jr., chairman of the commission on temperance and social service, as one of the official delegates from the United States to the international congress on alcoholism, which meets at Copenhagen, Denmark, August 20-22.

Soldier Bonus Law Upheld in Illinois By Supreme Court

Springfield, Ill., April 11.—The Illinois soldier bonus law was upheld in an opinion handed down by the state supreme court this morning.

The court affirmed the decision of Judge E. S. Smith, of the Sangamon county circuit court, who dismissed the original bill of complaint for want of equity. Only five of the seven supreme court judges voted on the opinion. Justices Cartwright and Dunn having disqualified themselves because their sons, as soldiers in the world war, would be beneficiaries of the bonus.

Mrs. Wright Chapman Dies.

Glennville, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—Mrs. Wright Chapman, aged 58, died at her home near Ludowici Tuesday night. She is survived by her husband, four sons, one daughter, four sisters, and two brothers. The funeral and interment will be at Jones Creek cemetery, at 11 o'clock Thursday morning.

ALLEGED WRECKER OF BANK BETRAYED BY CHECKED SUIT

New York, April 11.—Checked suits and fawn-colored apats are not so uncommon along Broadway in the forties, but detectives with little other than these marks to guide them last night captured Ward J. Conklin, sought as a fugitive from justice in Emporia, Kan., where it is alleged, he wrecked two banks in 1919 and departed with $75,000 of their assets.

Assistant District Attorney Boynton, of Emporia, appeared in court against him today and had him held without bail until Friday. Sheriff Gibson, who came east with Boynton to hunt the fugitive in Albany seeking extradition papers for his return.

The detectives, George Ferguson and John Walsh, claimed a reward of $1,000 for his capture.

When reporters saw Conklin in his cell he said:

"Leave me alone. I've suffered mental anguish and I'm broke. I've lost my wife and children. No, I didn't spend my money on wine and women. I just lived high. I was in Cuba and Mexico."

THOMPSON BUYS MAJOR INTEREST IN ALABAMA PAPER

Washington, April 11.—Three specialists were designated today by the District of Columbia supreme court to examine Harry Morse, ill at New London, Conn., and report whether his condition really is such as to prevent his appearance here for trial with his father Charles W. Morse, on war fraud charges.

The court today again granted a postponement of the trial until Friday because of the illness of the younger Morse.

Consider Action On Rum Running From West Indies

Britain Deplores Complicity of Subjects in Infringement of U. S. Laws.

London, April 11.—The British government is considering whether action can be taken to meet the representations of America concerning smuggling of liquor into the United States from the West Indies. This announcement was made Wednesday in the house of commons by Ronald McNeill, under secretary for foreign affairs.

"It is very difficult for the government to interfere with the legitimate export of any article from British territory but the government deplores the complicity of British subjects in infringement of laws of the United States," McNeill declared.

In response to a question, the under secretary stated that the government was aware of "the rising tide of indignation" in the United States concerning rum-running but he said he was uninformed of the charges of Emmanuel Shinwell, a laborite, that British seamen are paid high wages and furnished reverses to carry on their illegal pursuits.

DENY MONOPOLY OF MINE LABOR

Committee of Union Officials Answers Charges Before Federal Coal Commission.

Washington, April 11.—A denial that the United Mine Workers of America are attempting to establish a monopoly of coal mine labor was placed today before the federal coal commission by a committee of union officials, as a response to charges previously presented to the commission in behalf of mine operators.

The only object of the union, its communication said, "is insure for miners a fair and just rate of wages." The response did not deal with charges that the union calculatingly used unlawful violence to further its efforts, but assured the commission that a further answer would be forthcoming.

The union committee suggested that the operators' organization presenting data to the commission, by including 70 per cent of the bituminous coal production of the country, had become "as monopolistic as they allege the United Mine Workers to be."

The union committee repeated a previous charge that non-union coal mining companies "are gouging the American coal consuming public by charging 100 to 200 per cent more for coal than they charged a year ago."

New York, April 11.—Checked suits and fawn-colored apats are not so uncommon along Broadway in the forties, but detectives with little other than these marks to guide them last night captured Ward J. # SPRING FOOTBALL PRACTICE GETS UNDER WAY AT TECH

TECH WILL STRESS PASS

First Day of Spring Work Passed Off Harmlessly, Only Punting Being Indulged In.

BY JOHN STATION.

Spring football practice at Tech got under way with a whoop yesterday, about 40 men reporting. It was too warm to don the full regalia, but the fellows had on football shoes and jerseys. They got into any kind of abbreviated pants available. Coach Alexander was out in his customary uniform, and looked quite natural. He had on the old white pants and blue sweater and blue cap.

The first dose for the men was a couple of laps around the track. As soon as the men reported to the field, Coach Alexander sent them around the track for a couple of laps, "just to warm up," as he expressed it. Then they reported to the lower field for further instructions.

The whole squad chased punts down the field for about half an hour. Jack McDonough did most of the punting. Jimmy Brewster is still suffering from a weak ankle, and can not stand the strain of putting his foot into the ball as yet. Several men will get a chance at the punting before the training period ends. Wykoffe can punt, and so can Frank Harris. These two men look mighty good for backfield positions next year, and they will be given, no doubt, every opportunity for developing the booting toe.

All Punters Lost.

The punters will be wiped out on inns. Jimmy Brewster, who did the major portion of the punting last year, will not be back. Pup McWhorter, who punted for the second varsity, is also lost to the team. Jack McDonough has served his time, so there's no chance for an educated toe there. Red Murphy, who was one of the best punters on the field, will not be back.

So you might say that there is no punter left from last year's array. But there are still several men in the fold who know how to boot the ball, and with a little practice should develop into something good. Wykoffe and Harris are both good.

After the squad had chased punts for a while, everyone indulged in a wee bit of passing. Coach Alexander still stresses passing during the spring football, both from the receiving and sending ends. Two games were lost last year because other teams had better passing attacks. Next year Tech is going to try and win a few games through superior air attack.

Barron, Murphy, Brewster and McDonough did most of the passing last year and none will return in the fall. So, a new passer, or rather several new passers must be developed.

Men will be drilled on snagging passes from every conceivable angle, and thrown at every speed. There's a pass for every formation, and a pass for every play. The ends and half backs must be especially keen on receiving next year for they are going to get a lot of work along this line.

The squad took setting-up exercises, and then turned the track a couple of times before calling it an afternoon.

Finish of Two Events in Tech's Annual Field Contest

Georgia Tech's field day—always a red-letter day at Grant field—was held Tuesday and drew a record number of contestants. The Constitution's staff photographer, Francis E. Price, made these pictures at the finish of two very exciting events. At left he caught the end of the duel between "Track Man Andy" Anderson and "Red" Barron in the 100-yard varsity dash, the former winning by inches in the fine time of ten and 3-10 seconds. Left to right in this group are: Sessions, who finished fourth; Anderson, the winner; Hill, who took third place, and Barron, runner-up. At the right is the finish of the 100-yard open dash, varsity of the group. Crowder, third from the left, was second and Byrd, on the extreme right, finished third.

Crackers Drop Struggle To Greenville, by 6 to 4

Three Pitchers Used by Manager Miller — Herman Raps Out Triple, Scoring Two Runners.

LOCAL BOY LOSES OUT.

Mobile, Ala., April 11.—Pitcher Norris Thompson, of College Park, Ga., who was signed by the Cotton States League, today. This announcement was made by President R. M. Weinacker, of the local club.

Greenville, S. C., April 11.—(Special.)—The heavy hitting Greenville club in the South Atlantic league touched up Big King Brady for eleven hits during the six innings that he worked on the mound for the Crackers this afternoon and Atlanta dropped the last exhibition game with Sally League clubs 6 to 4.

Brady's offerings were knocked to all parts of the lot. It was only in the fourth inning that the Sally leaguers were not able to gain a hit. He was relieved in the seventh by Manly Levellyn who allowed two safeties and Cliff Best who worked in the eighth was the only Cracker twirler that seemed able to stop the Greenville hitters. Best struck out two of the batters to face him in the the next play Beck crashed out a single to Langford in right field who allowed the ball to roll through his legs, allowing Beck to take third and Rinehardt to score. Ristenburg scored Beck by a single to center field. McCarley grounded out and retired the side. This frame was also scoreless for the Crackers in spite of the double to center by Uncle Joe Guyon.

The sixth was scoreless for the Greenville club but the Crackers managed to put one across the plate when Burke doubled and went to third on an error. He scored on a sacrifice fly by Langford. The final run for Greenville came in the seventh when Rinehardt, the first man up, singled off of Llewellyn, who had relieved Brady. He was forced at second when Donnelly hit to Llewellyn and later stole second. He scored on Beck's fourth hit of the afternoon.

Locals Start Rally.

The Crackers started a rally with two down, and with Padgett, a right-hander, working for the Sally leaguers, very wild, it seemed as if the Crackers would be able to overcome the lead established by Greenville. But they came back in the third and netted two runs and three hits. Lacey, first up, grounded out, but Rinehardt singled. Donnelly flied out and things looked bright for the Crackers. Beck, then clouted his second hit for two bases, scoring Rinehardt. Beck later scored on a single by Ristenburg. McCarley retired the side by grounding out.

Crackers Threaten.

The Crackers threatened in this frame when Dowd singled and went to second on a passed ball. Guyon flied out to center, and Dowd went to third when Killenew grounded out. Herman retired the side. The fourth inning was scoreless for both sides, although Eddie Moore, the Crackers' brilliant little shortstop, hit to left field for three bases after two men were out.

In the fifth the Sally leaguers added two runs to their totals along with four hits. Rinehardt started the ball rolling with a single to right field. Donnelly flied out to Langford and on

Regular-Yannigan Game Saturday Is Called Off

Scarcity of Players on Team's Roster Given as Reason by President Jack Corbett.

Atlanta fans will not have a chance to witness the Atlanta Crackers in action before the season starts, for the game scheduled for Saturday afternoon between the Yankees and regulars has been cancelled, according to announcement by President Corbett last night. Scarcity of players on the roster was the main cause of the game being postponed.

The Crackers will arrive Friday afternoon and will work out at Ponce de Leon both Friday and Saturday afternoon. Saturday the team will leave for Montgomery, Alabama, where they play Sunday. Monday the Crackers will journey to Nashville and await the opening of the Southern baseball season in Sulphur Dell Tuesday afternoon as opponents of the Nashville Vols.

Many Cracker fans who have kept posted on the doings of the Crackers in camp will regret that they will not have a chance to see the team before the season opens. Reports have come from the Crackers in Greenville that Oscar Tuero is ready to pitch the opening game in Nashville Tuesday if given a chance. He has been the mainstay of the Cracker pitching staff while in spring training and also during the exhibition series and has made a good impression.

Plans to handle the opening crowd of baseball fans next Thursday afternoon at Ponce de Leon when the Crackers play Chattanooga are already in working order and efforts will be made to fill the stands to capacity and with the opening day attendance trophy that is offered by President Martin of the Southern association.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is actively engaged in the plans to handle the opening day crowds and all the members are working to put Atlanta again in the lead.

There are enough players on the Atlanta roster to have a ball game Saturday, but pitchers would have to be used as infielders and outfielders, thereby injuring their chance to be in the best possible shape when the season opens. Some pitching arm is liable to be hurt during such a game and Manager Miller is acting wisely. He has handled each and every man with particular care during the training season and does not wish to tear down what he has tried to build up for three weeks. He is counting on a real team for Atlanta this season.

Montgomery, Ala., April 11.—Auburn Tigers defeated the University of Michigan baseball team here this afternoon, 8 to 1.

Moulton pitched seven innings against the Michigans before giving way to Sheridan. Score: R. H. E. Auburn ..... 8 12 2 Michigan ..... 1 2 3 Moulton, Sheridan and Gibson; Baker, E. Gibson and Blott.

TECH TENNIS MEN INVADE

The Tech tennis team takes the road again this week-end. Camp Benning is the next objective. The team, composing four men, will leave Atlanta some time Friday for Columbus. They will play the soldier team the regular six games series, four singles matches, and two doubles matches.

The team was wonderfully successful against Alabama, winning all six matches. The play was characterized by the beautiful work of Maheson, who, after trailing for most of the first set, came through in brilliant style and set his opponent down two straight.

It is probable that the same team will go to Columbus that made the trip to Tusculossa. However, Ed Van Wagoner has been playing a wonderful brand of tennis lately, and may oust one of the players. But, the choice of four lies between Melver, Maheson, Mervin, Cannon and Van Wagoner. Tech beat the soldiers in the tennis match last year, and is anxious to repeat.

ALABAMA IN 1-0 VICTORY

University, Ala., April 11.—(Special.)—A great pitchers' battle between Herbert Steel, Alabama knuckleball ace, and Johnson, Alabama, who defeated the University of Wisconsin, 1 to 0, here today in one of the best and fastest games ever played on Deane Field.

Steel had the better of the duel though he was hit safely four times, and Johnson but twice. However, he allowed but two hits the ninth and fielded his position faultlessly, getting three put-outs and eight assists. In the eighth Herbert took a drive off Achenberger's bat and doubled Tebell off first for the only twin killing of the game. Steel is bidding high for an all-southern selection this time.

Hubert scored the Alabama run in the fifth. He singled through short for the first Alabama hit of the game. Barnes attempted to bunt but whiffed. "Country" Oliver singled to center and advanced a runner to third. Shortstop Conner, who played a fine game except this one, then erred on Steel's grounder and Hubert scored.

The Badgers began a rally in the ninth and got two hits but due to strategic brain work of Elmore's and Steel's first pitching, disaster was averted. Here's how Elmore utilized his bean: Captain Williams singled to left, Elmore stopped the ball but noticing that Williams was not looking as he rounded first, dropped the ball and pretended to institute a chase for it while it was at his feet. Williams took the hint and dashed eagerly for second only to be thrown out by a wide margin by Elly. The captain was roundly razed.

Captain Williams was the only batsman to get more than one hit. He poked two of the Badger four, Scarnius and Combacker got the other pair. Gillis got the other Alabama hit. Rosenfeld took 14 put-outs to feature the Alabama field work, and Scarnius took in five nice flies for the feature Badger meadow play. Johnson is the Badger pitching selection for the tomorrow. He will be opposed by Tubbs or Cunningham.

Flack Injures Leg.

St. Louis, April 11.—Max Flack, St. Louis National rightfielder, injured a leg in rounding first base in yesterday's exhibition game with Detroit at Birmingham, Ala., and was compelled to depart for his home in East St. Louis, Ill. It was announced here today. How long the injury will keep him out of the game is undetermined. It was added.

TIGERS HAVE FINE HITTERS

When the Tech pitchers face the Auburn Tigers Friday and Saturday they had better beware, for the Plainsmen have everlasting ball swatters on their club this year.

Auburn so far has played four real games, and has made an average of eight hits in each one. Some of the Tiger players think no more of hunting out a home run, then they do of slipping 5 o'clock tea.

Gibson, Allen and Moulton are especially talented with the willow. In a recent game against Tech, Gibson, who is Auburn's best pitcher, was at bat four times. He got four hits, one a home run and another a double.

In that same game, Moulton, though pitching the game, got three hits, one of which went for the maximum drive of four bases.

There are some very familiar names on the Tiger line-up. Shirley, the plunging fullback on the football team, is playing right field, and hitting well over 300. Then there is Gibson, quarterback, playing catcher; Moulton, end, who is Auburn's best pitcher; Harrison, fullback, playing field, and Creel, a sub on the football team last year, playing the other field.

Cole, Clay is going to have his hands full, and in all probability will play his outfielders away out.

REGAINED TITLE BY KAYO

Bevies of Pretty Washington Seminary Sub-Debutantes Compete for Athletic Honors in Field Meet Wednesday

Britton's Manager, Knowing That Lewis Would Run Away, Hatched Up Deal With Commission.

BY JACK BRITTON.
Ex-Weight Champion.

(Copyright, 1923, U. S. and Canada, by North American Newspaper Alliance, for The Constitution.)

After Ted Lewis had agreed to defend his title against me in a 20-round, no-decision bout in Canton, Ohio, Dan Morgan then got the hunch to send out to Ohio and bring on the boxing commission from Canton to New York. They accepted the invitation and came on.

Dan had a long talk with the commissioners. He explained that this was to be our twentieth meeting in the ring and it could be made the best bout anyone would want to see if Lewis could be forced to give me a chance and not hold and run away for 20 rounds. He went into the finest details explaining and illustrating how Lewis ran away in the ring and how he held with both arms under the shoulder blades when he was caught.

"We want a referee who will make them fight, gentlemen, a referee who will enforce the rules against holding. That will make a real bout and it will be even better with five-ounce gloves," Dan said. Morgan's suggestions were carried out, we learned when we arrived in Canton. Matt Hinkle, one of the best officials in the game, had been selected as the referee and both of us agreed to him without a question.

The commission held a meeting with all the principals and announced that the bout had to be seriously conducted and that no holding and stalling would be permitted. Morgan suggested that it would not give the fans a run for their money if either of us would be disqualified for holding and that the referee could stop it easily by slapping down the gloves of the offender. Some of the discussions we had became public.

Before I went into the ring for the fight Dan and I talked it over and we agreed that I, having only one way of winning, had to go in and punch all the time. I decided to get a knockout or get knocked out because I knew we would never get a chance to win by a decision.

Lewis Begins Running.

Lewis started running in the first round but I got a left hook over to the jaw and staggered him. He came in and clinched and the crowd yelled for a break. The referee stepped behind me and slapped Ted's hands down. Ted didn't like it and became greatly annoyed. We went along with Lewis running to cover as much as possible and trying to get inside to clinch. Every time he would come in, the commissioners would yell from the ringside and the spectators would shout from the house.

"Break 'em."

In close once, I said to Lewis:

"You're going to get this out for holding. Why don't you give 'em a fight?"

It made the kid frantic.

I kept pumping away at him with stiff left-hand hooks and jabs and when I went back to the corner after the second round, Dan said:

"You got the kid dizzy with those left hooks. He's getting ready for a fight."

Twice in the third round I staggered him with lefts to the jaw. He had to stand up and take them because he didn't know how to get out of the way and the house kept yelling—"Break!" every time he tried to get in close.

Dan insisted after the third round that I start using right hands on him but I didn't think it was time yet. I knew I had him going and that he couldn't last 20 rounds. I wanted to wear him down until I was sure that he was ready for a couple of good right-hand jabs.

"I want to get him rocking good before I try it," I told Dan after he kept yelling—"Right hand, right hand," from the corner.

It went on that way with Lewis taking a very bad beating until the sixth round when I hooked him with a left a couple of times and saw that he was looking glassy out of the eyes, breathing hard and getting wobbly on his feet. Then I hit him with three right hooks and he went down three times. I knew then that I had the fight won when the going rang and saved him.

The exertion winded me a little and I coasted through the seventh and eighth rounds just keeping the left glove in his face enough to keep his head from clearing.

Ninth Finished It.

"That's enough of this monkey business. Get this thing over with," Morgan said as I was going rang for the ninth round. I went out to use the right hand again and his jaw was open wide enough to get through with a truck.

Three right hooks and he went down. The third time he didn't get up.

Charlie Harvey came around to the

At the field day held Wednesday at Washington seminary scores of persons were attracted to the Peachtree road school to witness the battle for athletic supremacy among the pretty girls. hotel the next morning and said that Lewis was so heart-broken he had been unable to eat or sleep. He wanted to go back to England with the title and he figured he had lost all his chances. Harvey asked Dan to see if he couldn't do something with him.

Dan found Ted at the railroad station and brought him back to the hotel to have breakfast with us. Before we parted Morgan promised to give him another chance for the title.

My family and friends objected strenuously when they heard I had agreed to give him another bout. They figured, and I did also, that he hadn't been fair to me and they wanted me to treat him the same way. I was almost worked around to agree with them when Dan persuaded me to accept an offer to fight him in Jersey City. I finally went through with it but the bout isn't worth discussing as I beat him easily. He was saying away from the right hand and I had no trouble with him.

When Tex Rickard offered to match us in Madison Square Garden the same objection was raised by my family and friends but I thought the offer of $22,000 for my end was enough to overcome personal prejudices and I accepted.

During that fight in the garden I admit I made a show out of myself. Ted came out with a rubber mouth-guard and when I demanded he take it out, he made some very personal remarks.

After the round I forgot myself and went over to his corner. One of his seconds made a pass at me and I swung back at him. Morgan ran over and grabbed me.

We both fought a free-for-all in the second round, after which Morgan bawled me out, saying that I was a fool for losing my head and he said I was blowing my title every time I made a move. I cooled off then and went out to beat him. The decision at the end of the bout in my favor met with unanimous approval, I believe.

After the bout I was a tired Britton. Then I began to realize that I was slipping physically and that my nerves were getting me when I lost my temper. I told Morgan the next day to go out and get me some big bouts as I didn't have far to go. He got them and I went on just about as far as nature wanted me to go.

Oglethorpe Team Throws Away Lead, Losing 21-14

Knoxville, Tenn., April 11.—(Special.)—An alleged baseball game between Oglethorpe and the University of Tennessee here today resolved itself into a good track meet with the Vols making the circuit more times than their opponents from the Cracker state. The final score was 21 to 14.

Had darkness not intervened at the beginning of the ninth, which resulted in calling off hostilities, the totals might have been much larger.

Oglethorpe started the ball rolling with two tallies in the first inning. Tennessee came back with five in the second but then began to lag while the Petrels acquired momentum lead.

The fireworks then started, and in the next four frames Tennessee chased enough runs home to win by a 7-point margin. During these innings, nearly every man with Oglethorpe pitched a few balls, but all were driven to cover before the Tennessee hit.

Oglethorpe left here tonight for Lexington, where they will engage the University of Kentucky.

ALMAND PARK BATTLE SITE

BY M. D. GLEASON.

There will be two big games played at Almand park Saturday afternoon.

The first will be between the World's Fair team and the Strong Center Hill club, and will start at 1:30 o'clock.

The second game will be between the NuGrave club and the Georgia Railway and Power company team, winners of last year's city championship.

Both of these games will be hotly contested as these four teams have many of the best ball players around Atlanta on their rosters.

Center Hill will present their strongest line-up in this first game and the World's Fair always plays good baseball, making figures wherever they play.

The Power company's team is considered to be 25 per cent stronger than it was last year and it was strong enough then to win the city championship over 31 other outfits.

The NuGrave team consists mostly of ball players who have played or tried out with the several different leagues in this part of the country and are in the best of physical shape to play good ball against any team.

The public may expect to see a very interesting game between these teams Saturday.

Tech High Diamond Stars Find Commercial Hi Easy; Decatur Trims Fulton Hi

Sunday School Leagues' Championship

Basketball Game on Schedule at Y. M. C.

A. Tonight—J. P. C. Banquet Held.

BY ROY E. WHITE.

Decatur High won its first baseball game of the season Wednesday afternoon when Fulton High was defeated 3 to 1 in a postponed game from last week. By winning Wednesday Decatur High goes into a tie with Boys' High, each having won one game in five starts.

Harper was the brilliant star of the contest for Decatur, pitching a wonderful game and figuring in the scoring. He gave Fulton 4 widely scattered hits and secured 3 hits in three attempts at bat. He had good control, striking out 8. Chambers, who worked as relief pitcher for Fulton Tuesday afternoon, pitched a neat game and had it not been for errors on the part of his mates, Decatur would not have scored but one run.

Decatur scored two runs in the third inning on a single by Harper, an error, a wild pitch by Chambers, a sacrifice fly and a pitched error by Walker. One more was scored in the seventh when Harper again singled and reached home when Griffin hit one out as relief pitcher for Fulton Tuesday afternoon.

Fulton scored its lone run in the first inning on a wild pitch. Gay was the hitting star for Fulton, getting a two-run single in four trips to the plate.

The Smithies recovered their batting eye and pounded Barber, of Commercial, to all corners of the lot.

Tech High used two pitchers during the game. Florrid worked 4 and Norvell went the remaining three. Barber pitched the 7 innings for Commercial.

Basket Game Tonight.

Tonight at 8 o'clock the Sunday school basketball championship will be settled on the Y. M. C. A. court when the Central Baptist and Gordon Street Presbyterian teams play in the finals.

But four teams were entered in the tourney this year because of the large number of teams in the four leagues. The pennant winners in each of the four leagues entered to decide the championship of the association. Gordon Street eliminated the Ascons Monday night and Central Baptist won out of the Wesley Thresh class.

The game tonight should be the best of the tourney. The teams are on an equal basis as far as strength is concerned and both are capable of putting up some neat basketball.

J. P. C. Banquet.

The members of the Jewish Progressive basketball team were given a banquet last night in the club rooms on Fryer street by the directors of the club. The election of a basketball captain for next season was postponed until practice is started for the full season.

Sidney Hertzberg, vice president of the club, extended a hearty welcome to all present. Captain Rosenberg of the last year team, made a short talk on the success of the team during the past season.

Other speakers for the evening were Joe Best, coach of the Atlanta Athletic club; Emory Cocks, coach of the Jewish Progressive club team; Dorfan, center of the J. P. C. team, and others on the team. Aaron Litchenstein was toastmaster.

Joe Best made a very interesting talk on basketball and its progress in Atlanta during the past several years. He also talked on teamwork and cooperation during play.

FINALS TODAY IN TOURNEY

Mrs. Dozier Lowndes and Mrs. C. W. Beilfuss will play the final match in the first of the match play tournament being staged at the Druid Hills Golf club under the auspices of the Atlanta Woman's Golf association this morning.

In the semi-final round, played yesterday, Mrs. Lowndes, whose splendid play has been the feature of the tournament, defeated Miss - Mai O'Brien 5 up and 4 to play and Mrs. Beilfuss provided one of the distinct upsets when she eliminated Mrs. T. Williams by 2 up and 1.

Given the advantage of 17 strokes in handicap allowance, Mrs. Beilfuss made the second side of the difficult Druid Hills course in 40, cutting more than a dozen strokes on her score for the first nine. The read held by Mrs. Williams dwindled before such wonderful shooting and the match was brought to a close on the seventeenth green.

Mrs. Beilfuss is slated to give Mrs. Lowndes, southern champion, a great battle this morning. Mrs. Lowndes will concede her opponent 23 strokes and Mrs. Beilfuss, playing in the same form she has displayed throughout the tournament, will put up stiff resistance.

Shoots an 85.

Mrs. Lowndes shot an 85 yesterday for the second time during the tourney. This mark is but 2 strokes removed from the best Mrs. Lowndes has ever made at Druid Hills, as she negotiated the distance in 83 strokes last fall during The Constitution's tournament for feminine golfers of the section.

This gives some idea of how near the top of her game Mrs. Lowndes has reached, despite the fact that she shot a final 90 before being called upon to defend her title in the southern championship tournament, which will be held this year at Fort Worth, Texas.

In the second flight, Mrs. Charles V. Cornell and Mrs. Jess Daniel will play the final match in the second flight. Mrs. Cornell won her way into the final by a 22 victory over Mrs. Howard Muse and Mrs. Daniel defeated Mrs. Robert P. Jones by 1 up.

In the nine hole flight, Mrs. Davis Thomson and Mrs. W. L. Percy will compete. Mrs. Thomson defeated Miss Margaret Pratt 3-2 and Mrs. Percy defeated Mrs. Norman Coolidge 1 up.

Out here is Mrs. Lowndes' 43.

HICKEY PREDICTS FINE YEAR FOR HIS LEAGUE

Chicago, April 11.—Prospects never were brighter for a prosperous season in the American association. President Thomas J. Hickey said today.

At the same time, he asserted that the major leagues' decision not to send any more players to the association, was "one of the greatest blessings that has ever occurred to this organization."

"We feel very optimistic, due to the fact that we have eight growing clubs in the association, every one showing increased attendance yearly, and we are the only league in the country whose circuit is just as it started 22 years ago."

"I believe we will have a better race than last year, the weaker clubs having been strengthened and the only thing we are anxious about is weather. If we get an average season in weather I am predicting a splendid year."

No league in the country has a brighter future than the American association, he continued.

The league will open its season a week from tomorrow.

Claim Arsenate Should Be Listed As Free Product

Constitution Bureau, Raleigh Hotel.
Washington, April 11.—(By Constitution Bureau.)—Assistant Attorney General Clegg today announced that a hearing would be held soon on the legality of a tariff of 25 per cent ad valorem on calcium arsenate, as the question had been referred to the department of justice.

by the treasury department. Southern members of congress contend that calcium arsenate should be on the free list as it is not mentioned in the law and the debates in the senate show the intent of congress to place both white arsenic and calcium arsenate on the free list.
L. B. Jackson, state director of markets, has been advised by Senator Harris of the hearing, as he accompanied the Georgia senators and Representatives Crisp and Larsen to the treasury department when it was requested that the attorney-general pass on the matter.
Senator George and Cranston Williams, secretary to Senator Harris, and Mr. Jackson are expected to appear before the assistant attorney general either Thursday or Friday.

GOES AFTER PHILEN Airplane Groom Is Sought on Bigamy Warrant.

A Fulton county officer was en route Wednesday to Evansville, Ind., with requisition papers for W. D. Philen, aviator accused of bigamy in an indictment returned Tuesday.
Philen, whose novel marriage to Miss Annie Mae Wells, popular young dancer of East Point, in an airplane, attracted wide attention recently, is said to have another wife living in Lexington, Ky.

INDIGESTION SUFFERERS LISTEN!

Just a Week Separates You From Relief. Then You Can Eat What You Like and Feel Good.

Dan-Nax is the Greatest Laxative-Tonic Prescription Ever Written. Your Druggist is Instructed to Refund Your Money if You Are Not Delighted After Taking Dan-Nax One Week.

The users of Dan-Nax say that within one week from the time they start taking this wonderful prescription all distressing stomach disorders such as indigestion, dyspepsia, sour stomach, heartburn, constipation and sleepless nights are gone, and in their place comes enjoyment in eating again and perfect comfort after meals. Dan-Nax changes eating from a hum-drum duty to an extreme pleasure. What is better than a good appetite? Would you like to enjoy your meals again and know that afterwards you would not suffer from indigestion and constipation. Then, like others, try Dan-Nax for a week. Dyspepsia and indigestion are dangerous. Don't let them run on. Stop them before acute indigestion, heart trouble or kidney trouble sets in and your entire health is undermined.
Dan-Nax has a two-fold purpose. It contains the best known medicines for the relief of indigestion, constipation and other stomach disorders, and also contains Nux, Iron, Sarsaparilla and other drugs that have been long considered by the medical profession the greatest tonics ever discovered. These tonic drugs give you good sound flesh and muscle (not fat); they build you up while Dan-Nax is cleansing and purifying your stomach and intestinal tract. Dan-Nax is a combined Laxative-Tonic Prescription. It is guaranteed harmless and is equally as good for children and adults.
Get Dan-Nax from your druggist today. Take it as directed and on the sixth or seventh day just examine yourself—see how much better you are feeling. Remember if you are not delighted it costs you nothing, for your druggist will gladly refund your money.—(adv.)

THE CONSTITUTION, ATLANTA, GA. THURSDAY, APRIL 12, 1923.

THIEVES SHOT AT; ONE IS CAPTURED
Several shots were fired at two automobile accessory thieves, Wednesday night as they made off in an automobile after robbing of various accessories from automobiles parked in front of Segallo's dance hall, on Pine street, between the Peachtrees. They stole about $75 worth of attachments.
Officers D. W. Williams, stationed at the dance hall as special guard, sighted the thieves as they were going away, and fired at them.
Early Thursday morning Officers L. W. Armstrong and W. K. Bailey arrested E. A. Gabriel, 18, of 244 Courtland street, believed to be implicated in the robbery. He is being held on a charge of suspicion.

EMPLOYEES THANKED FOR LOYALTY TO ROAD

Agnew T. Dice, of Philadelphia, president of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad, on the ninetieth anniversary of that concern recently, issued a letter to the company's employees as a whole congratulating them upon the faithful service, which he declared, has been evident during the entire existence of the company.
Mr. Dice brought out in his letter a few interesting facts concerning the company and requested that its standard be upheld in the future as in the past. The announcement was made by Roy E. Burnett, local representative for the Philadelphia and Reading railroad.

H. C. ALLGOOD PASSES AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Rockmart, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—H. C. Allgood, father of the Rev. J. L. Allgood, pastor of Kirkwood Methodist church, Atlanta, passed away here this evening following a brief illness. Besides his widow, Mr. Allgood is also survived by one daughter, Mrs. Fulton Mundy, widow of the late State Senator Mundy, who passed away last year. Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 from the family residence here.

TROUBLE WILL COME OVER RICH OIL RIGHTS

TRAGEDY IN SUCCESS.
Washington, April 11.—Tragedy and the realization of a life's ambition have come together to Rear Admiral Colby M. Chester, who negotiated the gigantic plan for developing the rebuilding of the Turkish Empire, which has just been ratified by the Angora assembly.
His wife died on the same day that the Turkish assembly ratified his concession. Friends who called to congratulate the aged naval officer on completing a 25-year battle against the powers of Europe found him broken with grief over the loss of his wife.
officially advised that the concession had been ratified by the Turkish assembly, all comment was refused. It is understood that this government will reply that the contracts do not exclude other powers from going in should the open door argument be raised against the concessions.
Big Part Not Affected.
However, the major part of the concession, which provides for the rebuilding of Anatolia on a modern basis, is not likely to be affected by the international conflicts. The trouble will come over the rich oil rights in Mosul which are now controlled by the British under their mandate. This territory, being a group of the Kingdom of Iraq, is old Turkish soil which the Angora government is seeking to reclaim. It let the oil rights to the Chester group on the understanding that they would be made available if the territory is reclaimed from British domination.
Great Britain is expected to refuse to recognize the Chester rights in Mosul. General Goethals, who is associated with the Chester syndicate, is expected to confer with Secretary of State Hughes soon to discuss plans for the beginning of the reconstruction of the Asia Minor empire.
Ratified by Assembly.
Constantinople, April 11.—The scheme of Admiral Colby M. Chester, which provides for American participation in the commercial concessions in Turkey, has been ratified by the Turkish national assembly at Angora by a majority of 135.
In approving the Chester plan, the assembly sanctions the stand taken by the government previous to the time that the Turkish nationalists took over the affairs of state.
Americus Fishing Party.
Americus, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—A fishing party composed of Frank Sheffield, Arthur H. Chandler, Dr. E. T. Mathis, Charles H. Burke and Colonel R. T. Hawkins, prominent Americus business men, left here Tuesday for Spring Creek, Fla., for an outing of ten days there. The party are members of a fishing club, which owns a camping hut at Spring Creek.

Mrs. Henry Heinz Is Honored At Surprise Bridge Party

Miss Elizabeth Owens was hostess at one of the very enjoyable parties of Wednesday afternoon when she entertained at a bridge-tee at the Druid Hills Golf club in honor of her mother, Mrs. Henry Heinz. The affair was a surprise party for Mrs. Heinz in celebration of her birthday.

Quantities of spring flowers in the pastel shades of lavender, pink and blue decorated the clubrooms where the guests were received. The richly appointed tea table was adorned by a lace cover and had a beautiful centerpiece a silver basket filled with snap dragons in exquisite shades of pink and lavender. Compotes of mints further carried out the color motif of the pastel shades.

Mrs. Heinz was presented a piece of sheer linen. The bridge prizes were French novelties.

Mrs. Heinz was handsomely gowned in black satin trimmed with crystal beads. She wore a gray spring hat.

Miss Owens was lovely in a suit of black cation crepe embroidered in gold and blue.

Assisting Miss Owens in entertaining was her cousin, Miss Lucy Candler, who wore a modish costume of brown fashioned in the Egyptian style. She wore a brown hat and brown shoes and hose to match.

The guests numbered 20 friends of the honor guest.

Forrest Avenue P-T. A. Will Hold Meeting.

The Forrest Avenue P-T. A. will hold its regular meeting Thursday, April 12, at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium. Mrs. Murray Hubbard, chairman of Thrift, for the Woman's club, will be the speaker.

Her subject, "Practical Thrift," should be heard by the mothers of every pupil in the school. A full attendance is urged.

What to Eat and Why "Proteins" in Your Food Important for Tissue-Building

The Proteins in our foods are in charge of an important work for us. They are a necessary factor in building and maintaining the body-tissues. We need a certain, definite quantity of Proteins daily from our food—and the quality as well as the quantity of the Proteins is important.

Grape-Nuts includes the excellent Proteins of the wheat, and the supply of Proteins is supplemented by the cream or milk with which Grape-Nuts is eaten.

The Proteins in Grape-Nuts are combined with a very desirable form of carbohydrates (the grain starches) which are partially pre-digested through the long, slow baking by which Grape-Nuts is made. In its easy and quick digestion and assimilation Grape-Nuts helps prevent the unfavorable intestinal conditions which often occur from other sources of Protein supply and which greatly interfere with nutrition.

Grape-Nuts, with cream or milk, is a complete food, containing phosphorus, iron, calcium and vitamins—elements vitally necessary for the body's needs but often lacking in modern, "refined" foods.

You will find Grape-Nuts wonderfully crisp, savory and appetizing—a delightful part of any meal and an important aid to health and fitness.

Ready to serve from the package—order from your grocer today. Many servings to a package of this genuinely economical food. Grape-Nuts—the Body Builder. "There's a Reason." Made by Postum Cereal Co., Inc., Battle Creek, Mich.

Just Apply This Paste and the Hairs Will Vanish
(Boudoir Secrets)
The judicious use of a delicate paste insures any woman a clear, hairless skin. To prepare the paste, mix a little of the powdered delatone with some water, then apply to the objectionable hairs for two or three minutes. When the paste is removed, and the skin washed, every trace of hair will have vanished. No pain attends the use of the delatone and it will not mar the most sensitive skin, but to insure results, see that you get real delatone.—Adv.

Miss Mary Bracewell Weds Mr. Anderson at Home

The marriage of Miss Mary Margaret Bracewell and Robert Edward Anderson, which took place Wednesday evening at the residence of the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Bracewell, in Peachtree Hills, was a beautiful event witnessed by a large company of friends of the young couple.
The ceremony was performed at 8:30 o'clock by the Rev. Henry Mayes, pastor of the Inman Park Methodist church. Before the ceremony, as the guests assembled, there was a charming group of songs given by Miss Caldwell and Mrs. Joe Bracewell at the piano and included "At Dawning" and "Because."
The stately rooms on the lower floor were adorned with many lovely plants and softly shaded lights. In the living room where the ceremony was performed an altar of palms and pedestal baskets of calla lilies and ferns made a background of green beauty for the bride party.
Four little ribbon bearers, Philip Bracewell and Charles Stanford, in white satin suits, and Mary Earle Stanford and Helen James Starr, dressed, one in pink crepe de chine and the other in blue, drew the white satin ribbons to form an aisle through which came the bridesmaids and groomsmen as they preceded the bride.
The matrons of honor, Mrs. Edward S. Joiner and Mrs. H. L. Stanford, S. Joiner and Mrs. H. L. Stanford, were seated on the left of the bride, entered together.

Crisp New Apron Frocks

100 Dozen--20 Models

$1.00

Oh, my, won't there be fun choosing here today! Hundreds of crisp, fresh, pretty aprons that you'll love to wear mornings around the house, to the corner grocery or next door.

Coverall Aprons of a pretty quality percale in checks, plaids, small figures and combinations of solid colors and figures, made in becoming styles, some with gathered sides for extra fullness. Some have crisp white organdy collars, with organdy tabs on pockets. Some are trimmed with black rickrack braid. Still others are slit at neck with wee tie of self material. All are sashed and pocketed. Pretty springlike colors.

Surely, with housecleaning in prospect and long summer days ahead when one can't have too many frocks of this sort, you'll want to buy them by the half dozen.

Mrs. Joiner was groomed in blue georgette and Mrs. Stanford wore green crepe de chine with trimmings of silver. Both carried arm bouquets of premier roses caught with ribbon of the same shade.
Lovely Bride.
The bride entered the room with her father. She wore a lovely wedding gown of white crepe de chine with charming and girlish lines most becoming to her youthful beauty. The long lines of the gown were unbroken at the waist except for a narrow girdle of the crepe which ended in front with a circle of hand-made roses. The wedding veil of tulle was caught to her golden hair with a coronet of orange blossoms and encircled the head with a high ruche placed at the back. The veil formed a long and graceful train. The wedding bouquet was of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.
The bride was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, John H. Anderson, of Hawkinsville. During the ceremony, "I Love You Truly," was softly played.

Wedding Reception.
Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held. In the dining room the bride's table was decorated with beautiful white roses and sprays of lilies of the valley. Silver candelabra holding white candles were used on the table and misty tulle was further used to embellish it.
Mrs. Bracewell, the bride's mother, received her guests in a lovely gown of gray canton crepe. She wore a lovely corsage bouquet of pink and mauve sweet peas.
The bride's book was kept by Mrs. J. E. Bracewell, who was groomed in a handsome dress of sand-colored crepe de chine with draperies of lace.
Mrs. R. W. Starke, who assisted in receiving, was groomed in Nile green crepe de chine.
During the evening the bride and groom left for a wedding journey. The bride wore a white Pointe d'Esprit tulle. Her hat of orchid was smartly tailored. Her hair of orchid.

Women Voters Hear Address On Abolition of Warfare

Des Moines, Iowa, April 11.—(By the Associated Press.)—The abolition of war as a legal system was advocated and the method by which this may be accomplished outlined by Judge Florence E. Allen, of the Ohio supreme court, who spoke tonight.

The steps proposed by Judge Allen to accomplish are:

That war be outlawed and declared a crime, under the law of nations, and that its use as a means of settlement of disputes be abolished.

That a conference of civilized nations be held for the creation and codification of international law on the basis of equity and right.

That a court be established with jurisdiction over all purely international disputes as defined by the international code.

"We have certain laws about war but none against war," Judge Allen declared. "There are laws as to how wars shall be made but they do not forbid war."

Suggests Conference.

"We should declare that war is a crime against civilization and outlaw it as such. Such a law can be enacted by a single conference of an universal treaty. And America, the first great nation to live in friendship with its neighbors, should call a conference to outlaw war, through a treaty followed by a code convention to extend and codify international law along lines of international justice."

"The court's decrees must not be enforced by physical force. You can't enforce by physical force. You can't enforce through public opinion. The better part of law enforcement is done through public conscience. That is because real laws, which have a moral basis, are the expression of the moral feeling of the community. This desire not to war will finally be the most potent force and hence we should express the law if for no other purpose than to realize this force."

Local organization affairs and luncheon occupied the attention of convention delegates today. Officials of the state organizations had a round table discussion of finance plans for the coming year at a banquet this evening.

Mrs. Chamberlin Speaks.

Juvenile delinquency and a desirability for the increase in the birth rate among the Anglo-Saxon race are two problems now facing the south, declared Mrs. H. B. Chamberlin, president of the Georgia League of Women Voters, today at the Regional luncheon given to the presidents from the southern states here attending the national convention of the organization. Talking on the subject of "Why We Need Legislation to Protect Women in Industry in the South," Mrs. Chamberlin said:

"To us who have studied the matter it is so obvious that it is hard to know just what to say, so I will mention just a few points.

"There are two problems troubling the south now; the fact that our pure Anglo-Saxon stock is not increasing as it should and the problem of juvenile delinquency.

"We are proud of the fact that we are pure Anglo-Saxon, but as the women go more and more into the shops and mills we may expect a drop in the birth rate, for it has happened everywhere in this country and in Europe. Experience has taught us that.

"Talk to the workers among the juvenile delinquents and you will find that in every case it goes back to some trouble in the home, poverty, broken homes, etc.

"Now how can a woman work ten or twelve hours away from home and take care of the family, if she has one, or produce healthy children?

"Your immigrant woman in the state of Massachusetts and other states cannot work but eight hours a day and there are other protections thrown around her, but our women have no protection.

"One thing that hurt me when they were telling about that splendid school for industrial girls at Bryn Mawr. It came out, casually, that the girls from the south were in worse shape, physically, than any others because they were 'worked out.'

"Whenever this bill comes up before a committee in the legislature the manufacturers' association has men to tell the committee of the capital that is coming south because of the labor laws in the north. Yet it is natural and logical that the south should develop industrially now. They do not mention the fact that the first mills grew up where the humidity was great because threads have to be kept humid or they break. Now they have learned how to keep the atmosphere right by artificial means and can put their mills anywhere.

"I wonder if that artificial humidity is good for lungs?

"I have been watching our papers for a year to see how many mills have moved into Georgia and I find only one. That one, by the way, is proud of the fact that they work eight-hour shifts."

Peachtree Road Club Has Meeting.

The May meeting of the North Peachtree Road Woman's club will be held Wednesday, May 2, at the residences of Mrs. Mark Caudle, of Piedmont road.

At that time a delegate to the biennial council will be elected and will, with the president, Mrs. Walter Dillon, represent the North Peachtree Road club at the council.

The April meeting of this organization was held Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Frances Bunnell, on Roswell road. Mrs. Gordon Burnett gave an interesting parliamentary drill at this meeting and Mrs. Brownell entertained at tea at the close of the meeting.

Yaarab Chanters Concert Will Be Brilliant Event

The sale of reserved seats to the concert by the Yaarab Chanters at the Atlanta Woman's club auditorium Monday evening, April 16, will start Friday morning at Cable Piano company. This is the only means the Chanters will use in disposing of their tickets, as they cannot be secured from individual members.

The entire proceeds will go to the Scottish Rite Children's hospital, and the ladies auxiliary of that institution, together with the members of the executive board of the Atlanta Woman's club, will act as patronesses and expect to attend the concert en masse. Mrs. W. T. Parkerson, president of the auxiliary, and Mrs. B. M. Boykin, president of the Atlanta Woman's club, have expressed themselves as keenly enthusiastic over the coming performance. The Atlanta Woman's club is delighted that the Yaarab Chanters selected this auditorium in which to make their first public appearance.

Beautiful stage decorations will be in evidence, and a "surprise" in the way of special settings is promised by Mrs. Frank Cundell, director, who has been rehearsing the group of thirty chanters for the past several weeks. This group, in oriental and other costumes, has been heard by Shriners in many cities during the past six years, but has never made a public appearance outside of their own circle. Their repertoire includes ensemble and solo numbers, ranging from classic arias to popular melodies and old-time negro tunes. Tickets are $1.00 each.

War Mothers Will Send Gifts To Soldiers at Black Mountain

The War Mothers Service Star legion held a most enthusiastic meeting Tuesday afternoon in Edison hall.

The meeting was opened by singing of "America" followed by prayer. Miss Josephine Ingram sang most delightfully a group of songs.

Dr. J. B. Mitchell, pastor of St. Mark's church, delivered a scholarly and patriotic address, which touched and thrilled every woman present. By unanimous vote he was asked to repeat it over radio so that others might enjoy it.

In the absence of Mrs. T. T. Stevens, chairman of "The Sisters," who had arranged the attractive program, Mrs. W. F. Melton, second vice president, presided. A report of the beautiful Easter party given to the soldiers and nurses at Hospital No. 42 was made by Mrs. E. B. Williams, vice chairman of the hospital committee.

Mrs. Sam D. Jones reported that the efficient chairman, Mrs. Irving Thomas, and workers had $825 in hand, a creditable sum, to be used in philanthropic purposes.

Mrs. J. W. Wilcox, gold star grandmother, told of the needs of the ex-

The Bonnie Brae Bids You Welcome

For Auld Time's Sake

No words but those of the sweet old song by Burns can adequately express my gratitude to the hundreds of Atlantans who were my guests at the Daffodil almost daily for nearly six years.

But experience never leaves us where it finds us. And I look forward to the pleasantest moments of my life in receiving my friends at the Bonnie Brae.

A Stirring Serial of Primitive Passions

Leading character in this stirring romance: Marcelle, beautiful daughter of an impoverished aristocrat, is in love with Miles Lockett, a brilliant young scoundrel who loves her as well. But Marcelle's father, a powerful and energetic man, is determined to see that his daughter is married to a man of position and wealth. He has arranged for her to marry a young man named Miles Lockett, who is a brilliant young scoundrel. Marcelle is in love with Miles, but her father is determined to see that she is married to a man of position and wealth. He has arranged for her to marry a young man named Miles Lockett, who is a brilliant young scoundrel.

CHAPTER XXXVII

He "Trusted" Me

Someone has been talking! Marcelle exclaimed. "Someone has been making mischief. Tell me." The quick fear in her eyes was proof to Miles of his past ignorance. What more was she hiding from him? What greater depths of perfidy would be revealed?

His heart hardened. She was playing of course! That bewitching look in her pretty eyes—the pathetic little break in her young voice—the imploring gestures—these were so many signs for him that she was lying. He was the only one who had been told that she was lying. He was the only one who had been told that she was lying.

"You will be relieved to hear that no one has been talking," he answered. "But certain things have come to my knowledge that make it quite impossible for me to continue this pretense."

"Pretense? How?" she spoke in RESORTS—ASHEVILLE, N. C. Kenilworth Inn ASHEVILLE, N. C. New and Largest Tourist Hotel OPEN ALL YEAR Guests of Kenilworth Inn are privileged to play on two golf courses.

Rebekahs No. 16

To Meet Today

The Piedmont Rebekahs, No. 16, 423 1-2 Marietta avenue, will entertain at a party this evening at the lodge rooms for the benefit of the poor. Refreshments and soft drinks will be served. Admission will be 10 cents.

Mrs. Allen Is

Bridge Hostess

Mrs. J. P. R. Allen was a charming hostess on Wednesday afternoon when she entertained at her home in the Phipps apartment in honor of Mrs. E. S. Legett, who has recently come from her home in Knoxville, Tenn., to reside in Atlanta, and Miss Edna Lockett, of Winston-Salem, N. C., the guest of Mrs. Carl Dodd.

The reception rooms were beautifully decorated with pale pink snapdragons and Bernadine lilies. The prettily appointed table was covered with an imported lace cover and had at its center a silver basket filled with Bernadine lilies and snapdragons. Surrounding this were silver candelabras holding unadorned pink tapers.

The guests were French bred and the top score prize was a vase bridge set and the consolation was a set of bridge pencils and a table number.

Mrs. Allen wore navy blue crepe richly embroidered with beads. Mrs. Legett was gowned in a black and white dress with a small black hat. Miss Lockett was gowned in a coat of gray flat crepe with self-trimmed and worn with a hat to match.

The guests numbered 25 friends of the hostess. Miss Orman Weds Thomas A. Brinkley. An announcement of interest to a wide circle of friends is that of the marriage of Miss Katherine Orman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orman, of Atlanta, to Thomas A. Brinkley, of Atlanta.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. G. Shanks, of Grace Methodist church, at noon on Wednesday. The bride is a native of Mississippi but was reared in Denver and this announcement will be of interest to a large number of friends in that city.

Mrs. Kimbrough Hostess at Tea. Among the very interesting events of Wednesday afternoon was the large bridge tea at which Mrs. J. M. Kimbrough, wife of Colonel Kimbrough, entertained at the Officers' club at Fort McPherson.

Snappers and Jonquills decorated the room where the guests were received. The richly appointed table had as a beautiful centerpiece a silver basket filled with snapdragons and Jonquills and holding unadorned yellow tapers.

Mrs. Kimbrough was lovely in a gown of Alice blue charmeuse. She wore a large black hat. The guests numbered 55 friends.

Mrs. McCutcheon To Entertain. Mrs. Howard McCutcheon will entertain at a bridge-tee this afternoon at the East Lake Country club in compliment to two other active visitors, Mrs. D. W. Clarke, of Washington street, and Mrs. Tucker, of Athens, who is visiting Mrs. A. L. Heidler, on Ponce de Leon avenue.

Miss Snellings Weds Mr. Reade. An interesting event of the past week was the marriage of Miss Roselle Snellings, daughter of Mrs. John Anderson Snellings, of Bostwick, Ga., to Ashley L. Reade, of Petersburg, Virginia.

The ceremony was performed April 2 at 5:30 o'clock at the home of Rev. H. H. Butler, in Suffolk, Va., in the presence of friends among whom were ex-Governor and Mrs. Winston of North Carolina.

After a bridal trip, Mr. and Mrs. Reade will be at home to their friends in Petersburg, where the groom is employed by the Charles Leonard Hardware company.

Confessions of a Debutante

BY RUTH AGNES ABELING

INSTALLMENT NO. "A GEM OF HEAVEN." Who's Who in the Story. I ran away from my fiancé, Jonathan Grey, rich and staidly to marry a man who danced well. His wife, Larry, a man who danced well. His wife, Larry, a man who danced well. His wife, Larry, a man who danced well.

On this scorching day I have envisioned a bit of heaven! It must have been fate, chance, the supernatural, call it what you will, but the scene in that street led me to a window where a red geranium blossomed, which took me through Twenty-third street today in my motor.

I was laughing aloud. An awful place to be, full of trucks and vehicles of commerce. And in spite of the difficulty of driving in that street I was impelled to hold my wheels to that crowded path.

Presently from the motley crowd of the sidewalks, one figure stood out and I stopped, staring as if transfixed. There, on the sidewalk, with three badly dressed children tugging at her skirts was that girl! The girl of my engagement dinner! The girl from whom Jonathan had feared a breach of promise suit. And such a different girl!

"G'wan—what's matter with her?" someone shouted and I realized that I was holding up the street of traffic. I turned around and saw a power, moved around to come to a parking place, left my car and sped down the walk after the figure of the girl.

I talked as if I had been the best of friends with her. She was a female who wore her real self near enough outside so that one hadn't the feeling of talking to an animated doll. "Because—I—give you the lie direct."

I understood then, the reason, for her silence after our wedding and the difference in her expression when I came to her.

Brown Will Inspect Central Park Site From Airplane Seat. George M. Brown, Jr., president of the Atlanta real estate board, will accompany Lieutenant McMullen, of the city Thursday afternoon to obtain a view of the proposed central park project which is being advocated for Atlanta.

Mr. Brown, with other members of the real estate board, has been exceedingly active in assisting the central park plan, and has announced that he will aid Mayor Walter A. Sims and other administration leaders in presenting an appeal for a $2,000,000 bond issue with which to purchase this property.

Francis Price, staff photographer of The Constitution, will also accompany Lieutenant McMullen on a flight over the city and will photograph the prospective central park site at a height of 3,000 feet.

TO HOLD FINAL RITES FOR FRED A. MURRAY. Funeral services for Fred A. Murray, 65, former Atlanta, who was killed March 24 at Guayama, Porto Rico, will be held this morning at 11 o'clock at the Central Congregational church. Rev. W. T. Stuchell will officiate. Interment will be in West View cemetery.

DISORDER MARKS LONDON MEETING. Continued from First Page. Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer, rushed over and separated the milling combatants.

Evres Mossell, a Tory, and George Buchanan, a laborite, disappeared behind the speaker's chair and a scuffle ensued. Inasmuch as the battle was waged under the press gallery, it was invisible to reporters and few details are yet known. Angry cries continued in the chamber even after most of the members had departed.

CITY CLUB FRIDAY WILL HEAR SHIPP ON HARMONY PLAN

BY RUTH AGNES ABELING

Nelson Shipp, editorial writer of The Macon Telegraph, will speak at the City club Friday on making this a "Harmony Year in Georgia." Mr. Shipp recently proposed a cessation of the efforts to remove the state capital from Atlanta to Macon. Clark Howell, editor of The Constitution, has been asked to introduce Mr. Shipp.

On Monday John A. Boykin, solicitor-general of the Fulton county superior court, will speak at the club on the "Rising Tide of Crime." Other speakers scheduled for forthcoming meetings of the City club are Gutzon Borglum, Judge Bender Terrell, Attorney Roland Ellis, of Macon; George L. Pratt and B. M. Hall.

The series of addresses which have been arranged by the City club are intended to promote a spirit of harmony in all parts of the state and a better understanding of state questions. Edgar Watkins, president of the City club, stated.

"You know I haven't told him my real name. It all happened so quickly and it was all so sweet and beautiful that names seemed to be of little importance. And by the time he should have known my name, mama had refused to let me have him about so I thought it was best to be—well, like himself!" She finished with a painful little laugh.

"The spell of the thing still held her and she still loved the man. It was on toward 5 o'clock and I noticed that she looked at me anxiously a number of times. Finally she said:

"It's awfully sweet of you to come—I'm twice as happy after you've been here but—well she was coming home and I don't want him to see you." It was hard for her to say it.

"He might have seen your picture in the paper and recognized you!" She added as if fearing she had offended me.

I rose to go, but lingered, loathe to leave her. How gladly, I thought, I would have taken her into my own home until she was safely well again.

Presently steps in the corridor were audible. She looked up happily expectant. The door opened.

And he came in—my stranger! "Copyright, 1923, for The Constitution."

Tomorrow—Solved Respectability.

ASK BUSINESS MEN TO HELP POSTOFFICE

BY RUTH AGNES ABELING

In a circular letter sent to Atlanta business men by the chamber of commerce, the business men were urged to co-operate with the postoffice to facilitate the handling of the mails.

The "help the postoffice" campaign is being carried on to enlist aid of business men to help the local postoffice through the period of shortage of funds which has forced a curtailment of working force.

ert upon any kind of compulsion, not even moral. Our proposal to enter the court and the act of adhesion to it which President Harding has asked, is based upon the assumption that compulsion is not necessary for peoples of good will and a sense of justice.

Why Nations Join. "It is true that part of the other nations, in joining this coalition, joined it in a slightly stronger degree. These other nations have been moved either because they have greater faith in the processes of international co-operation than America is able to show in its present mood of distrust, or else because they are suffering has made them more fearful of the menace of war.

"But the adhesion which President Harding proposes to the international court is strictly limited by carefully drawn stipulations which will, no doubt, be fully considered by the senate. All we do if we ratify President Harding's proposal—all we promise we make—the only obligation we take are these and only these: We promise to pay a share of the running expenses of the court a matter of less than $100,000 a year; and we promise to take part with 46 other nations in the choosing of the judges. The judges are men of international reputation who sit nine years and are free of all prejudices except to maintain principle and law.

"There is another section of opponents of President Harding's proposal who condemn the idea, not because they do not agree to its primary purpose and method, but solely because it was erected under the auspices of the league of nations. But we are not by this act entering the league of nations, in any sense. The connection of the court with the league is indeed remote. Its sole relationship is that the judges are elected as provided in its own statute not by the league but by the representatives of the nations to the league acting as an elective body for this purpose, which is this elective body that we join, not the league.

"Tyranny of Emotion." "To some people, the league is such an anathema that even its most good acts are bad. Let us admit frankly that there are among our people many thousands, perhaps hundreds of thousands who, as regards the phrase 'league of nations' are still under the tyranny of emotions associated with that phrase during the political controversy of the last four years. It is unhappily true that in such controversies, a phrase is given an odium which distorts the orderly march of entirely dissociated ideas. What they would willingly assent to as a thing standing by itself, they shrink from merely because it has association with a phrase.

"There are few people who apparently maintain an open mind on international co-operation by rearrangement of their prejudices. The court is already in existence, it is largely the handiwork of American thought and American hands. For us to insist upon it being down and re-created just because it was created by a conference called by the league (in which Americans took part), is one of the most unseemly suggestions of national selfishness that can be conceived.

"Another section of the opponents of President Harding's proposal condemn it because it does not go far enough; because it has no teeth in it. This is the basis of Senator Borah's objection. I admit the objection is a valid one and would have us join it in such a manner that we would be obligated to its jurisdiction. Senator's Borah's international court in its relation to the nations would be somewhat an analogy to the supreme court of the United States in its relation to our states.

"Now, by all means, let us have no quarrel—on the contrary, let us have admiration and respect—for those who show the vision and the courage to go this whole distance. But let us admit that as a practical matter, for reasons familiar to all of you, America is not ready to go this far."

Sealed bids will be received at the office of the undersigned, second floor, City Hall, until 5:30 p. m. Monday, April 16th, 1923, for paving: Marietta street from Jesse avenue to North avenue. Mailed drive from Polo drive to Avery drive. (Using concrete, asphalt and other type of pavement.) Specifications can be had by calling on the undersigned. The right is reserved to accept or reject any or all bids, and to waive technicalities. Purchasing Agent, City of Atlanta.

GEORGIA STATE SANITARIUM. The Board of Trustees of the Georgia State Sanitarium, Milledgeville, Ga., has the pleasure to announce that on April 15, 1923, to furnish said institution with 8,000 tons of Straight Run of Mine Coal, based on the whole amount of coal contracted for to be delivered during the summer and fall months; and also on the deliveries to be made during the winter months succeeding the making of the contract, in amounts as may be directed by the Sanitarium. Bidders will be required to state the name and location of the mine from which the coal proposed would be shipped. A statement of the analysis and the B. T. U. of the coal proposed will be necessary for a comparison of value. Each bidder is requested to state in his proposal the prevailing freight rate from his shipping point to Milledgeville. A certified check for $100.00 must accompany each bid. Checks of the names of bidders will be returned after the opening; that from the company to whom the award is made will be retained until a contract is signed. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids. Address proposals to: BOARD OF TRUSTEES, GEORGIA STATE SANITARIUM, Milledgeville, Ga.

JIL-BETT

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

But few of the divers made more than enough to hold body and soul together, owing to the exactness of the officials. For each thousand oysters turned in, the diver received, for his or her pay, one-fourth of the oysters he had brought up. If a pearl happened to be found among his pile, it was immediately confiscated. The diver disposed of his or her oysters to the dealers, who bargained for them, for a mere pittance. Thus the owners of the pearl-fisheries grew richer, accumulating fabulous wealth, while the divers grew older, weaker and poorer, living but a short life at best.

It soon became apparent to the officials that Jil-Bett had the luck or knack of picking the oysters which contained the largest and most valuable pearls, which caused her services to be highly appreciated. They found, however, Jil-Bett Bannock was no ordinary diving maid to deal with. She openly defied them to take from her the pearls found in her share of the oysters. They patched up their differences with her by promising her at least a satisfactory settlement when the season was over. This she found to be a few pearls of inferior quality, which she was obliged to sell for a mere trifle. By this time her grandfather could not be depended upon for support. A young man had usurped his position as a pearl expert. Jil-Bett found the entire burden of support falling slowly, but surely, upon her shoulders.

Jil-Bett would not have had so hard a life, if it had not been for the Arab, Ben-Ali, whom the government officials had put in charge of the divers—bribe and discharging them as he saw fit.

He was the cruellest of taskmasters. Woe to the unfortunate diver who demurred at paying him the heavy toll he secretly exacted of them to keep their job.

Ben-Ali was the most feared person on the coast of Katar. Those who had alterations with him were invariably reported as among the missing.

No Welcome in Arabia.
(E. Alexander Powell in World's Work)

Though the first European went to Arabia 700 years before the birth of Christ, in twenty-six centuries the white man has gotten less than a dozen miles inland. The only spot on the entire seaboard of the great peninsula where he succeeded in making a foothold is Aden, to whose sun-scorched rocks a British garrison clings by the grace of God and the guns of the British fleet.

The Arab has not needed forts, or a fleet, to stop the white man. He has three allies; the harborless, sun-pounded coast, the desert and the sun—especially the sun. The brown man draws over his head a thin fold of cotton and the sun lets him pass. The white man covers his head with an inch of cork and the sun strikes through it and kills him.

What threat could be offered by a European army to a people who are habituated to a climate where the mercury frequently rises to 130 (and no shade!) and has been known to drop 70 degrees in 30 minutes—who can live for days on a handful of dates and a bowl of camel's milk—whose tented cities vanish in an hour—and whose swift nomadic, when pressed, can cover four-score miles a day? What would be the menace of the mightiest fleet to these men of the desert, few of whom have set eyes upon the sea?

Jenny Lind Devised First "Parlor Car"
(From the Kansas City Star)

We scan the records of the Patent Office in vain to find the name of Jenny Lind as an inventor, says a writer in the Scientific American. Yet she was responsible in a large degree for the "parlor car." When she was brought to this country by P. T. Barnum she was obliged to spend much of her time in traveling from place to place on the wretched railroads of the period. So, to reduce the discomforts of the trip, she had seats of the ordinary car removed and the vehicle furnished with chairs, tables and other pieces of furniture which would be appropriate to a parlor. She, innocently called this her "parlor car," and it is undoubtedly from this that we get the name on our Pullman chair cars.

when the gangs reported for work. No one knew, or dared inquire into what had become of them. If Ben Ali knew, none were the wiser for it. The young women of Katar were in dread of him; but even he, with all his power, found the wooing of a maiden a very hazardous undertaking, owing to the very strict custom of Arabia in this respect, the honor of its maidens being a well-known slogan that was zealously adhered to.

The Arabians, who were adroit, commenced with the men folks of the coveted maidens, bending these relatives to their service by fair means or foul, to work upon the maidens' obedience. Ben-Ali had watched the budding beauty of Jil-Bett with eager eyes, determining she should be his bride. Daniel Bannock made vigorous objection. He knew well the disposition, as well as the character and reputation of the crafty Arabian, the desperado of Katar. He had been accused of smuggling opium into the country; the charge was not proven, however—the man who had brought it to the attention of the authorities was among the missing when the day of trial came. Jil-Bett spurned the advances of Ben-Ali. This Jil-Bett did not discourage him in the least. After the manner of his race, he applied himself the more assiduously to controlling the will of the stubborn old grandfather. Stimulants, as well as the product of the poppy, were strictly taboo in Katar, but gradually it became apparent Daniel Bannock was being kept surreptitiously supplied with the latter. His ghastly face, and the trembling of his hands, which had once won world-wide fame for him for being so steady and so true, told their own story mutely, but pitifully.

The company no longer brought him for him to cut, or polish. Jil-Bett was the very last person to discover the cause of her old grandfather's condition. All of her pleadings with the old man not to let Ben-Ali come to their home were quite useless. He would promise faithfully, only to break his word over and over again. The Arab always paid his visit when he knew Jil-Bett was at work in the ocean's depth, and so overpowering had become his influence, he had gained from Bannock the promise Jil-Bett should wed him ere the fruit of the date tree ripened and was gathered again.

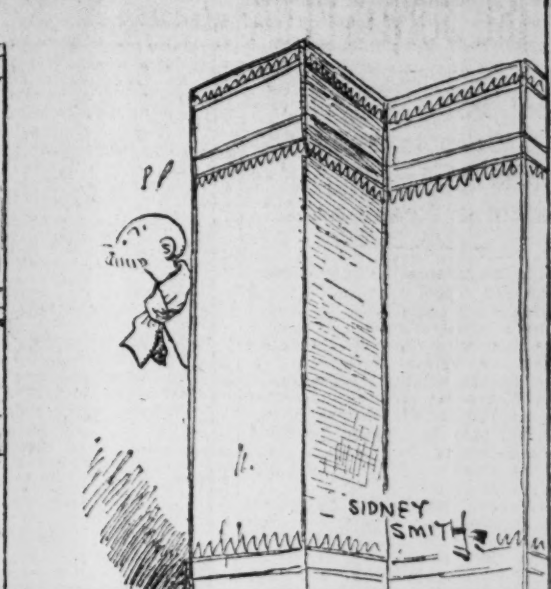

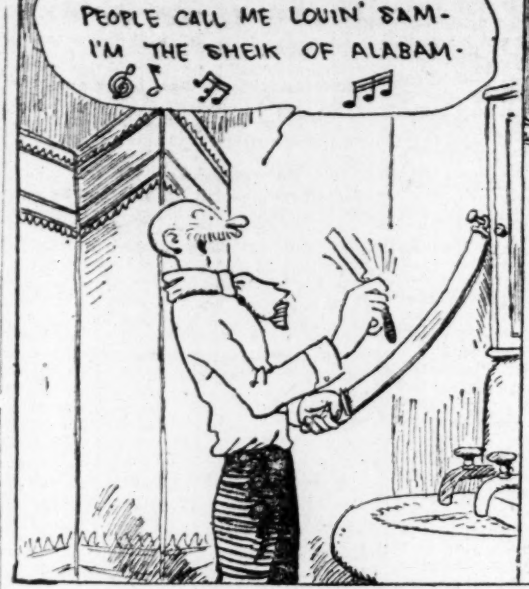

Jil-Bett's grief, her pleadings, eye! her prayers, were of no avail. It dawned upon the girl's mind quite suddenly the way and means the Arab had employed to cause her grandfather to become so subservient to his will. Bannock vowed to her she should wed Ben-Ali. Jil-Bett vowed just as solemnly that she would not.

"He has worked a terrible evil upon you, grandfather," she would sob bitterly, as she twined her arms about his neck. "It is not too late to quit; take no more of those dreadful powders that make you turn from me, Jil-Bett, who loves you so dearly, and become a raging creature whose only solace is Ben-Ali's poppy powder, dear."

All her prayers and pleadings fell upon deaf ears.

"You must overcome your dislike for Ben-Ali, especially as you are to marry him soon," he would mutter incoherently.

Jil-Bett's arms would fall from about him. "Know this, grandfather," she would answer vehemently. "I will never marry the Arab! You could choke out what life there is in me, but with my last breath I would still refuse to wed a person whom I so abhor. No power on earth can force me to do so." "We shall see when the time comes!" screamed the old man, shaking a trembling finger at her. It was on a morning after just such a scene Jil-Bett set out at early dawn to her work. It was fully an hour too early, but she felt heartick and desolate; she wanted to sit down by the water's edge and think—map out some means of escape from the net that was being drawn about her. She knew it was the custom for marriage to take place with the first blossoming of the date trees; she could see by the tender green shoots that were peeping forth from the bark it would not be long until that time.

What could she do—how avert it—when the only human being whose command she was in duty-bound to obey was arraigned against her? Suddenly, in turning an abrupt curve in the path, Jil-Bett came upon the figure of a man lying unconscious, with upturned face, in the grass. She saw at a glance that he was not one of the divers—he was a stranger in Katar. She knelt down and touched him; his hand was cold, but his pulse was beating faintly; no, he was not yet dead, but his pallor was creeping slowly over him.

Jil-Bett's shrill cries brought assistance quickly, an official, who was going down to the boats, and with him the doctor who attended the divers who might be in need of his services.

"Not dead, but mighty near it," announced the doctor after a hasty examination. "He'll have a fighting chance for life if we can get him to the hospital quickly."

The government operated a hospital for the benefit of the divers. Fortunately, it was close at hand. To this the unknown stranger was hurriedly conveyed. Every tramp vessel set out men searching for pearl-diving work; therefore, no particular attention was paid to the advent of the rugged stranger.

It had not escaped the observation of the doctor, however, that his hands were white and shapely. There was nothing about him that suggested manual labor.

Many a ticket-of-leave man and escaped rogue in all walks of life had drifted to Katar. No one bothered over their pedigree. If they wanted work at the pearl fisheries, and qualified in the examination for it, they were employed. Otherwise, they were told to move on, and that was the last seen or heard of them.

The women of Katar took turns in administering to those in the hospital. Jil-Bett asked permission to attend the stranger after her work hours, which was readily granted. The doctor announced: "If he pulled through he would owe his life to her for discovering him in the nick of time."

Very gently Jil-Bett lavished his burning brow with cooling water and held cooling draughts to his parched lips. He was like no one whom she had ever beheld before. His hands were a marvel to her, as was the thick, clustering chestnut hair that was brushed back from his white forehead. Jil-Bett spent every moment of her spare time at his bedside, watching him. She was greatly distressed when the doctor decided he was probably suffering from shell-shock, or a blow on the head which had caused a complete suspension of his memory, leaving his mind a blank. A wave of happiness swept over her heart the day he opened his eyes and looked up wonderingly into her face, asking: "Where am I? Who are you?" Jil-Bett explained, but he did not seem to understand.

The doctor questioned him closely as to who he was, his name, and from whence he came. It was quite useless; he could not answer. His past was blotted out, as though it had never been. Many names were suggested to

LABOR SUPPORTS MORE BONDS PLEA

School Probe Committee Says Schools Need $6,000,000 More—Rap Fee System in Resolution.

Giving the Atlanta bond commission and the city school authorities credit for doing every possible thing toward building a satisfactory school system for Atlanta with the funds at their command, a special committee appointed by the Atlanta Federation of Trade's Wednesday night reported that a sum of $10,000,000, instead of the $4,000,000 that has been provided, will be necessary to complete and equip the Atlanta public school buildings on a modern basis.

The report, which was the result of an investigation into the present status of the school building program, declared that a thorough investigation had been made of the situation, and after reporting that the authorities had done about all they could with the funds at their disposal, the committee preferred its services to the school board, the bond commission, or to any citizen, or citizens interested in the betterment of the school system.

The report was received by the central labor body, and the committee was authorized by motion to offer its services to the city government in devising ways and means for providing funds for the building of modern schools.

Early Start Promised.

Following the reading of the report, Delegate Walter C. Caraway, who is also a member of the bond commission, took the floor and reiterated the information given out by School Commissioner McCalley, to the effect that the girls' and boys' high schools would certainly be erected and that the property now occupied by the girls' high, as well as other abandoned school property, would be sold, or placed on sale within sixty days.

Other action taken by the Atlanta Federation at its last meeting before the convention of the state federation, which begins next Wednesday at Savannah, was to refer a resolution to abolish the county fee system to the legislative committee, with instructions to assist in the abolishment of fee to county officers.

The delegates to the state convention, who leave next week for Savannah, and who will take up the abolition of the fee system before the state body, are: E. L. Quinn, Walter C. Caraway, J. A. Miller, William Van Jackson, W. J. Skelton, William Van Houten, Charles B. Gramling.

Consider Park Project.

A communication from the Atlanta real estate board, asking the Atlanta Federation of Trades to endorse the big central park project, was referred to the executive committee, which was instructed to make a report to the body at the next meeting.

The report of the special school committee, which was created for the purpose of investigating the fact that Atlanta's public schools are not being erected in accordance with the expectations of the people, follows:

We, your committee, appointed to make inquiry why the new schools are not being equipped with such modern facilities as auditoriums, gymnasiums, etc., in conformity with the outline given prior to the bond election, respectfully submit the following report:

After the bonds had been voted and the commission for the handling of same appointed, it was found that no adequate program for the expenditure of the school fund had been made. The school board, instead of being charged with the responsibility of securing the best possible results in the way of more and better schools for Atlanta, had an expert survey made by one of the city's leading architects, which was not only unnecessary, but also a waste of money.

That this was done we know, we had the privilege to see the gentleman in charge of the survey, Mr. Strayer, address us on the subject during his stay in our city.

The findings and recommendations of those engaged in the survey are contained in two volumes—very interesting, enlightening and most comprehensive—giving insight into the conditions and requirements of our schools not realized by any of our citizens. The survey was connected with their administration and perhaps only very few of them.

Shows Money Lack.

This survey shows that instead of $4,000,000, at least $10,000,000 would be required to bring our school system up to date; and the men in charge were confronted with the task of getting the largest first of all in order to do this.

From the facts and figures your committee had at its disposal, it is evident that the school board, in its attempt to do this, has been forced to discontinue the construction of the new schools, and to place the old schools under construction and expected to be ready for use by September 1, and which are being taken care of in the meantime.

With only $4,000,000 available from the school fund, due to delay in getting under way with the work, 15 of the 18 projects, including the three junior high schools, are under construction and expected to be ready for use by September 1, and which are being taken care of in the meantime.

In the construction of the new schools, the school board has been forced to place the old schools under construction and expected to be ready for use by September 1, and which are being taken care of in the meantime.

Commends Present Course.

Your committee is unanimous in its opinion that the school board has done its best, and that the school system is in a satisfactory condition.

H. A. Kitchens Is Grateful to Tanlac for Good It Has Done Him and Takes Pleasure in Endorsing Great Tonic.

"The Tanlac treatment touched the right spot in my case and I am glad to tell others about it if I can be instrumental in calling it to the attention of anyone in need of a good tonic and stomach medicine," declared H. A. Kitchens, 705 Broadway, Macon, Ga., well-known general merchant.

did not digest properly and my entire system got fearfully out of order. I finally had an attack of intestinal trouble, my nerves were about shattered, and I was in an utterly rundown condition all around.

"I told my druggist about my troubles and he suggested Tanlac, so I started taking it, and I have always felt thankful to him for putting me next to such a fine medicine, for it soon took right hold of my troubles and put me back in fine shape. My appetite picked up almost from the start. I grew stronger every day, my nerves calmed down, and I was soon back in my old-time health.

"A sister of mine also has taken Tanlac with the very best results, and I will always recommend it, for I consider there is none better.

We find ourselves forced to recognize that much remains to be done to bring our city in line with many of the progressive countries in the world. May we, in conclusion, suggest that the services of a committee from this Federation be tendered our city government and any other group of interested citizens in devising ways and means for providing funds needed to complete the task of equipping our school buildings program to include all and sufficient facilities recognized as essential for the proper development of our schools.

Veterans' Spirit Of 'Never Say Die' Laughs at Rain

Old Rebel Yell Rings Out With Vigor as Memories Brighten.

BY SAM W. SMALL.

New Orleans, La., April 11.—(Special.)—Sweeping rain from before noon yesterday dissolved the program for the veterans and their attendants, also decimating the convention attendance. Entertainments arranged for the daughters, matrons, mothers and wives of the veterans, were largely impossible except for the indoor functions. Nevertheless the war spirit prevailed and the southern slogan of "Never Say Die" saved the disappointments.

The regular sessions opened in the forenoon under General Carr in the Gypsy Smith auditorium with usual enthusiasm. Speakers were full of fervor and every reference to beloved leaders gone over the river were hailed with resounding cheers. The terrifying old rebel yell pierced the walls, hailing that the sons of the veterans do not seem able to adequately carry on. There is a blunted echo of the shrill, far-carrying cry that the days caused thrills of dread among the enemy.

Hearty and Eloquent.

The welcomes were hearty and eloquent and Governor Parker's concise and felicitous address seemed to have held untold feelings toward him because of recent utterances and performances. Commander Alvin Owsley of the American Legion charmed the veterans and won them to a spiritual approval of his vehement appeal for justice and generosity for their sons and grandsons who fought, suffered and yet suffer as a result of the war.

Two topics uppermost with veterans are who shall succeed Carr in command and where do we go from here.

Gen. James A. Thomas of Dublin, Ga., is a strong favorite against a field of five others, but General Carr and his partisans are backing Gen. Williams R. Haden of Kentucky. It is not yet apparent how the contest will terminate.

Concerning next year's reunion the odds are yet with Memphis. A group of the old men strenuously argue for a place on or east of the Mississippi, saying their increasing ages and travel conditions make that a matter of justice and humanity to them. These pleas are having effect and bringing Memphis and Birmingham strongly into favor. Among the sons there is a real scramble.

Redford Forrest is pressing for reelection of Commander W. McDonald Lee of Richmond, while the opposition, already called anti-Lee, set up three candidates, Richardson of New Orleans, Morton of Duncan, Okla., and D. S. Etheridge of Chattanooga. In this case also it is a guess as to who will win. A dark horse may carry off the honor.

Hear Billy Sunday.

Rev. Billy Sunday, passing through, gave the assembled convention a hasty once-over today and declared that, though himself the son of a union soldier, he could well imagine from this remnant what the federal armies were up against in Virginia, Pennsylvania and Georgia. Only one death among the visiting veterans has occurred. Among indoor sports of the veterans tonight was something of a cotillion and barn dance in the St. Charles lobby, amid tumultuous applause.

The corpse of the occasion was Veteran Sherman of Barnesville, Ga., who walked his way to the reunion. Some dancer is Ole Bear Sherman, I'll say. Speaking of reunions, one only has to mention Atlanta to draw a strong stream of praise for the way our city dealt with the Graybacks at the latest reunion there. There is most invariably say there's a town that knows how to do things and does them beyond criticism.

Need No More Debts.

Senator Ladd declared that the farmers of the nation did not need any further opportunities to add to their indebtedness. They have had enough credit already, he said, and what they should be given is an opportunity to get a fair price for their products, to allow them a reasonable profit above cost of production and the chance to reduce some of the indebtedness they have been compelled to assume during the past two or three years.

Was Aldrich's Idea.

He said that the federal reserve act was originally conceived by Senator Aldrich, and that it was in reality nothing but the same idea that was originally defeated in the Aldrich bill. He said that both Democrats and Republicans must take the responsibility for the creation of the act, and that they had had their eyes blinded by the predatory Wall street interests of the international banking clique.

He drew a vivid picture of the sufferings of the farmers of North Dakota and Georgia, with their "commissions in misery," the country bankers and others whose close association with agriculture, he said, made them farmers in effect, if not in actuality. He told how since the federal reserve act has been in force the mortgage indebtedness of farmers has increased over 25 per cent and during the same period the assets of banks reporting through the treasury department has increased over 100 per cent.

State-Owned Elevators.

Senator Ladd told how the farmers of North Dakota, whose principle product is wheat, had been tricked time and again by the grain buyers who ran the big elevators, until the farmers themselves had set to work to secure a state-owned terminal elevator. He told how this move had been blocked in the Dakota legislature time and again and after it had been pushed through the heat, how its opponents had carried the fight through the courts.

He told how, in 1910, the hot winds of the summer dried the farmers were told, ruined their wheat. He said the farmers were told that their wheat crop that year was unfit for human consumption and box they were compelled to accept from 50 cents to $1.40 per bushel less than the market price for it, sold as chicken feed. Then he said, the farmers discovered that this same wheat, which had been sold to the Minneapolis millers and sold the big bakeries and wholesale grocers as flour of exceptionally high quality.

Praises Farm Bloc.

He compared the troubles of the Dakota wheat growers to those of the cotton farmer of the south and declared that, inasmuch as they have been companions in misery, have suffered at the hands of predatory wealth in like manner, they ought to understand each other better and get together for their mutual salvation. He praised the work of the agricultural bloc in congress and said that

Hardy Will Head Country Bankers; Farmers Helped

Senator Ladd Says Reserve System Only Puts Farmer Into Debt.

Brunswick, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—William M. Hardy, president of the Citizens' bank, Rome, Ga., was elected president of the Country Bankers' association of Georgia, at the final executive business session held here tonight. Luther Bond, president of the Reuben bank, was elected first vice president; R. B. Dixon, vice president Citizens bank, of West Point, second vice president, and L. R. Adams, secretary of the Bankers' Trust company, of Atlanta, was re-elected secretary and treasurer.

A change in the association's by-laws was made, by which a new department is created, making eligible for membership in the association the many farm loan associations now functioning throughout the state. Hereafter, under the constitution of the Country Bankers' association, the loan associations have not been eligible for membership.

Banks Help Farmers.

Secretary Adams told of the result of a questionnaire which was sent out to a number of banks throughout the state inquiring as to what steps the financial institutions are taking to encourage agricultural enterprises. He stated that he had received sixty replies to date, of which three-fourths pointed out that the banks of Georgia are actively encouraging live stock industries in one form or another, including dairy cow, hog and hen.

Some of the banks, said Mr. Adams, have taken active steps toward securing a sufficient supply of calcium arsenate with which to fight the boll weevil, and some of them are urging the farmers to use, and assisting them to secure, pedigreed cotton seed and endeavoring to standardize their communities in the use of same. According to Secretary Adams, this is a most gratifying report, and shows conclusively that the banks of the state are solidly backed behind a program of farm diversification and agricultural betterment.

Retiring President Peters and other members of the association expressed their warm appreciation of the untiring and faithful services of Secretary-Treasurer L. R. Adams and resolutions were adopted expressing the appreciation of the association for the splendid addresses which have been heard by the delegates and to all of the various agencies which have made the convention the best in the history as association.

Ladd Hits Reserve Banks.

Attacking the system under which the federal reserve act was being operated, Senator Edwin F. Ladd, of North Dakota, today told the Country Bankers' association of Georgia that the reserve system, as it is operated, is one of the most gigantic frauds every perpetrated upon the people of this nation.

Senator Ladd was the principal speaker at the second day's session of the country bankers' convention, now in session here. He spoke at the forenoon meeting and in the afternoon the several hundred delegates and their wives were taken for an automobile ride through Glynn county and shown in detail the gigantic plants of the Hercules Powder company and the Atlantic Refining company.

Thursday will be the final day of the convention, and will be taken up by a boat ride through the harbor and shore dinner on St. Simons island.

Need No More Debts.

Senator Ladd declared that the farmers of the nation did not need any further opportunities to add to their indebtedness. They have had enough credit already, he said, and what they should be given is an opportunity to get a fair price for their products, to allow them a reasonable profit above cost of production and the chance to reduce some of the indebtedness they have been compelled to assume during the past two or three years.

it only existed by the reason of the great need which called it into being. He suggested that the reserve board should be composed exclusively of business men, manufacturers and farmers, without a single banker member. Then, he said, it would act as a court to which the bankers could come and plead their case instead of an exclusively banker organization controlling their own business.

He said that the workings of the board had given the farmer too much credit, which had resulted in shuffling him to the big money powers and that the right to issue currency should be taken away from the board and restored exclusively to the government where it belonged.

Soule Talks on Cotton.

Other speakers on the morning program included Dr. A. M. Soule, of the State College of Agriculture, at Athens, and Clarence Owsley, of Fort Worth, Texas, former United States assistant secretary of agriculture. Dr. Soule pleaded for the growing of a longer staple cotton, saying that Georgia could grow a longer staple than any other section of the country, thus getting the monopoly of this crop, with a greater yield and a greater price.

He advocated the planting of certain varieties worked out by the state college, which matured early enough to defeat the boll weevil.

Mr. Owsley spoke on the effects of export prices on domestic values of farm products. He told how important it was that Georgia cotton producers should take an interest in the world cotton markets, in order that the Texas crop, now largely exported, should not be kept off foreign markets to set in competition with the Georgia crop to lower the price.

WALKER ADDRESSES SAVANNAH TRADE BODY

New Board of Trade Plans Its Campaign of Activity.

Savannah, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—Governor H. Clifford Walker, or was the chief speaker here tonight at the great mass meeting of Savannah's new 4,000 membership board of trade. He was guest today of the Kiwanis club at luncheon.

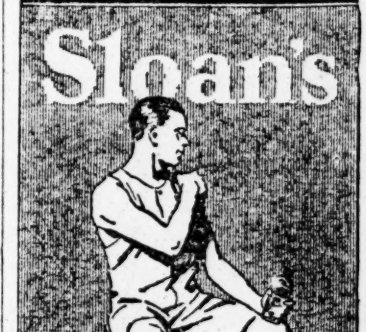

He congratulated Savannah on the spirit of co-operation which has wiped out factionalism, and united to make the greatest record in the matter of a commercial body's campaign that has been made in the entire country.

A constitution and by-laws, along strictly modern and democratic lines, was adopted and the first steps taken toward holding a primary for the selection of a ticket or tickets for directors to effect the change of the body's enlarged and revived organization.

The new body will have nearly 4,000 members and an income of almost $100,000 a year, assured for at least three years. It proposes to have a home of its own and make that home the civic center of the commercial and civic bodies.

Mills B. Lane, president of the Citizens and Southern banks, and Colonel Alex. R. Lawton have been mentioned as possibilities for the presidency of the new body, which will probably change its name from "board of trade" to "chamber of commerce," because other similar bodies have been named generally and the old board of trade years ago here was especially directed in activity through one or two lines of commerce only.

The C. W. memorial candle to be placed in the church where the famous tenor last worshipped, will be burned for 24 hours on April 13. Day of every year, and it is expected to last for several centuries.

Graft Is Charged In U. S. Purchase Of Hospital Sites

Disclosure of "Dishonesty on Pretty Big Scale" Predicted.

Washington, April 11.—Disclosure of "dishonesty on a pretty big scale here and there," in the past handling of veterans' bureau affairs, was predicted today by Major General John F. O'Ryan, special counsel of the senate investigating committee, who said he based his statement on a preliminary survey.

On the other hand, he declared, he was impressed with the conscientious efforts made in many directions to carry out the purposes for which the bureau was created. Many of the difficulties encountered which brought about adverse criticism, he said, probably will be traced to incompetence of underpaid employees entrusted with the expenditure of the vast sums of money.

Hearing Next Week.

General O'Ryan expects the committee to begin hearings next week.

Complaints reaching the committee counsel cover most of the activities of the bureau, but the principal ones, General O'Ryan said, are those charging "graft" in the purchase of hospital sites, and those from former service men who either have not received compensation from the bureau or who are receiving some but think they are not getting a "square deal."

Wherever a clear case of injustice is shown, General O'Ryan said, he forwards the complaint to Director Hines for action and in this way many fruits are being corrected.

Complaints from individuals, the committee attorney said, have been divided into three groups: Those of complainants having no case; "ordinary" cases resulting from an honest difference of medical opinion, and those cases where the beneficiary lives in a remote locality, papers have been lost, compensation checks have gone astray, or maladministration is apparent.

Receives Co-operation.

To aid him in the sifting and investigating process, General O'Ryan said he had asked and was receiving the co-operation of the bar association of every state. Lawyers are being designated by these organizations who have no connections that would inject politics in the investigation. If acceptable to the committee's counsel they are then charged with running down complaints in their respective localities.

In this way, General O'Ryan said, he is able to comb the entire country. All papers, especially those relating to complaints of "graft," he added, are turned over to local investigators with the assurance that the truth would be developed and there will be no "axe to grind."

Neither he nor the senate committee, General O'Ryan said, will attempt to correct mistakes or injustices. These are being called to the attention of the veterans' bureau and their correction will be left to Director Hines. If anything of a criminal nature is developed, he added, it will be called to the attention of the department of justice.

Stock Exchange Announces Ban On Broadcasts

New Resolution Would Modify Policy of Many Stations.

New York, April 11.—Use of the radio to broadcast market information of forecasts of business by its members is prohibited by the terms of a resolution adopted today by the governing committee of the New York Stock Exchange. The resolution prohibits also broadcasting by wireless of any matter intended to advertise firms or members to stimulate interest in particular securities on the stock market.

Lawrenceville, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—Miss Margaret Winn, age 21 years, one of Lawrenceville's most beloved and popular young women, died at her home on West Croan street, last night after an illness of two weeks.

She was prominently connected throughout the state and leaves a sister, Miss Rebecca Winn, and a brother, Latham Winn, of Lawrenceville, and the following uncles and aunts: Messrs. A. P. T. D. and W. L. Cain, of Atlanta; Thomas R. Cain, of Memphis; Misses Helen and Ota Roddey, of Atlanta; Mrs. J. W. R. of New Orleans; Mrs. B. T. D. of Decatur; Mrs. G. C. Montgomery and Miss Eula Cain, of Lawrenceville.

Funeral services will be held from the Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. James G. Patton, pastor. Interment will be at a local cemetery.

ACES ORCHESTRA RETURNS TONIGHT

Popular Constitution Orchestra Will Hold Forth on 6 to 7 O'Clock Broadcast Tonight.

Station WGM, The Atlanta Constitution, presents in the "we have with us" broadcast tonight, Warner's Seven Aces, The Constitution orchestra, in a series of late Broadway dance hits. Through a recent arrangement with New York publishers, Warner's Seven Aces present each week, via Station WGM, the latest song and dance bits of the "big city." This splendid arrangement is another feature of The Constitution's station which is extremely popular with radio enthusiasts.

With Warner's Aces giving the late numbers, fans of this station hear the new numbers many months earlier than in pre-radio days. Listeners to WGM hear the new song and dance hits the same week that theater goers and night club dancers hear them on Broadway.

Supplementing the Aces on the early program tonight, Mrs. C. D. Peavy, Jr., will be heard in a number of solos. Jimmy Finley, staff pianist, will give the piano accompaniment for the vocal numbers.

"Get You Nicely." Station WGM: Dear Sir: Would you please send me a copy of your weekly broadcast program? I get you so nicely here that I want to keep up with all of your concerts. And obliged, Very truly yours, A. W. BRIDGES, A. W. WINSBORO, La.

Mother's Love Prompts Offer To Sell Blood

Macon Mother Seeks Buyers for Life Fluid to Aid Her Children.

Macon, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—A mother's willingness to sacrifice for her children, that they may have food, clothing, a home and education, came to light here today when Mrs. A. A. Aycock, of Danburg, Ga., inserted an advertisement in a local newspaper offering to sell either one gallon or a half gallon of her blood to some rich person who is sick or who is having trouble with blood. The advertisement reads: "A mother wants to sell her own blood, out of her body, just saving enough in her to keep life, so she can give well some day, to some rich person who is sick or old and needs more blood. She will take $3,000 for a gallon, or $3,000 for a half gallon. Health guaranteed. References given. This is offered as a support for two babies with food, clothes, a house and education."

The average amount of blood given in a transfusion is approximately one centigrade, or about a pint, and it would be impossible for Mrs. Aycock to give a gallon of blood at one time, as the human body does not contain that much.

At frequent intervals, local physicians said today, blood can be taken from the same person if the person is given time to recuperate, the same amount being taken each time.

In large cities there are professional blood sellers who make their living by blood transfusions. The average amount paid them is $25 for 500 centigrades. Recently the blood given in New York city went on strike in an effort to raise the price to $35.

SAPP CALLS BOND ISSUE OUTGROWTH OF WAR HYSTERIA

Dalton, Ga., April 11.—A bill authorizing the return of a certain part of the money obtained from the sale of automobile licenses to the various counties he state to be used in the construction of good roads is to be introduced at the coming term of the legislature by William M. Sapp, local attorney and representative from Whitfield county, according to announcements here.

The amount of money to be returned to the counties will be fixed according to the population of each county, of the respective counties. Mr. Sapp explains.

The proposed $75,000,000 bond issue for roads is an outgrowth of war hysteria, Sapp believes, and that fact, while he is an advocate of good roads and permanent roads, he is "unwilling to burden an overburdened public with a stupendous bond issue."

"We need more economy in the expenditure of public funds and a general conservation of the resources of Georgia," Mr. Sapp declares, "and the fact that we have paid something like $35,000 into the motor vehicle license fund we have not received one-third of this from the state highway department."

LAMAR COUNTY HOLDS ITS SECOND HOG SALE

Barnesville, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—Lamar county had its second co-operative hog sale of this year Wednesday, selling three cars, weighing 42,000 pounds, bringing a total of $8,300. A. J. Evans, of Fort Valley, bought the lot at $7.91 per hundred.

C. G. Gay, of the state college of agriculture, graded the hogs, and the sale was under the direction of C. G. Neal, county agent. Farmers are pleased with the result and the hog industry in Lamar is growing rapidly.

STANDARD REAGIONS CURB MARKET

Heavy Professional Offerings Follow Announcement of Price-Cuts in Pennsylvania and Ky.

New York, April 11.—A concerted attack on the oil shares which registered extreme losses of 1 to 6 points was the feature of today's more active stock market.

Heavy professional offerings followed announcements of price cuts in Pennsylvania and Kentucky crudes and circulation of rumors that similar action was contemplated in mid-continent fields. New low prices for the year were established by Standard Oil of California and New Jersey, Pan-American A and B, Houston, Skelly, Pacific, Associated and Pierce Oil preferred. Trading in these issues comprised more than one-third of the day's business.

Selling pressure was extended to other groups but it encountered more effective resistance and net losses, for the most part, were confined to fractions. Some of the more vulnerable stocks, however, were American Woolen, American Waterworks, United States Industrial Alcohol and Steel and Tube preferred, off 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 points. International Paper dropped 3 1/4 points following the announcement of a wage increase on top of the publication of a relatively poor 1922 earnings report.

Republic Steel, which was run up to 5 1/4 points late yesterday, forfeited half of its gains and the other steel shares held steady.

Considerable interest was manifested in the statement of John A. Topping, president of Republic, which forecasted a further increase in steel production is not probable and that any expansion in demand would mean an increase in the price of steel. He also pointed out that whereas wages were 20 per cent below the 1920 peak,

PLUMATE KILLS YOU G BAXLEY BOY

Slayer, Alleged Mentally Defective, Charged by Coroner With Voluntary Manslaughter.

Buxley, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—Raymond Carter, aged 6 years, was shot and instantly killed by Grady Simmons, aged 16 years, at the home of the latter near here early this morning.

A coroner's jury was summoned for the grand jury charged with voluntary manslaughter.

In his statements to the coroner's jury the Simmons boy told conflicting stories, first denying that he shot the smaller boy, and then claiming that the shooting was accidental.

The Simmons boy is understood locally to be mentally unbalanced, he being said by local authorities that about three years ago he removed all of his clothing and ran away from home on the day after that, that he recently he took several of the smaller boys out into the woods and attempted to hang them to a tree limb, and several other illegal acts that he committed.

Grady Simmons and the little Carter boy were alone in a room of the Simmons home, adjoining the Carter residence, at the time that the smaller boy shot under the right shoulder and penetrated the body, lodging in the wall of the room.

The father of the Carter boy was killed in an automobile accident near here about three years ago.

Methodist Ministers Thank Lewis H. Beck For Gift to Wesleyan

Appreciation for a gift of $25,000 to Wesleyan college, Macon, by Lewis H. Beck, was voiced in a resolution adopted by the Methodist Preachers' association at a recent meeting, it was announced Wednesday.

In addition to thanking Mr. Beck for the donation to the Macon school, the preachers also extended him their appreciation for a $50,000 gift to Emory university, a $35,000 gift to the Georgia School of Technology, both for student loan funds, and a $10,000 donation to the Young Women's Christian association.

The resolution was signed by a committee composed of J. H. Eakins, S. R. Bink and Charles O. Jones.

Chicago, Ill., April 11.—One of the largest linseed companies in the United States will shortly acquire by purchasing a large competitor, it became known today in Wall Street. It is said that the combination will make the company by far the largest linseed concern in the world. The merger is to be handled by the leading Wall Street banking house which specializes in preferred stock financing.

WANT CONSTABULARY Bill Will Be Introduced Creating State Force

Dalhousie, Ga., April 11.—A bill to create a state constabulary is to be proposed at the next session of the legislature by Craig R. Arnold, member of the legislature from this county, according to announcements here.

Mr. Arnold also states that he intends to present a bill to correct the present automobile laws and bring them up to date.

Other legislation proposed by Mr. Arnold includes a bill to add a tax of two cents a gallon on gasoline to be used in matching federal aid in case the legislature refuses to submit to the people the privilege of voting on a bond issue of at least $50 million to be spent for better roads, higher educational institutions and common schools and better for the purchase at cost of school books will be a debt upon the state.

June	24.25	24.50	24.25	24.25
Aug	24.25	24.50	24.25	24.25

New York, April 11.—The feature in the cotton market today was a continuation of near month liquidation which sent the price of May deliveries down to 24.25 or 30 points lower. Later months were pulled down by the near month weakness but felt the influence of unsettled weather conditions in the south and the lowest price touched by October was 24.25, which represented a net loss of only 13 points. October closed at 24.25, or 15 points below the opening, while May recovered only part of its loss, closing at 24.14 or 35 points lower. The general market closed steady, net 35 points lower to 17 points higher.

The market opened steady 11 points lower to 5 points higher. Relatively steady Liverpool cables and the market showing of the weather may seem to be offset by the continuance of May liquidation. This weakened the general tone, although no specially bearish feature was commented on in the morning's news and selling because a little more aggressive or urgent as prices worked lower. No orders were uncovered to the decline which carried July off to 24.38 or 44 points net lower, and the new crop month's closing at 24.14 or 35 points below the opening. The market showed indications of a finer technical position and the close was at rallies of 20 to 30 points from the lowest. Rumors that private returns showed domestic mills sold of 60,000 bales for March, seemed rather disappointing to recent buyers, although such figures would compare bullishly with last year's and may have contributed to the forenoon decline. A little better selling and the market would have been more bullish, but a private acreage estimate of 30,000,000 acres indicating an increase of 12.6 per cent, but there was more or less nervousness over the weather in the south, which was the new crop month's a relatively steady tone. Port receipts today were 7,240 bales. United States port receipts, 5,177. Exports, 3,305, making 4,212,841 this season.

SPOTS IN NEW YORK

New York, April 11.—Cotton spot quiet; middling 23.35.

CONTINUED DROP AT NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, La., April 11.—Marked irregularity and periods of both weakness and steadiness featured the trading in cotton today. Old crop months were under much pressure, which the new crop month's latter being almost buoyant in the afternoon under the rains that were reported falling in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana and the fact that the belt and seriously interfere with the planting program. The close was typical of the entire session, prices fell 31 points down to 23 points compared with the last quotations of yesterday. May closed at 24.14 cents a pound and October at 24.25. In the very active trading prices were 3 points under to 14 points over the close of yesterday but heavy liquidation appeared, being stimulated by unfavorable political accounts from England and private cablegrams from brokerage houses here quoting British officials as urging further restriction of British purchases of American cotton. Selling increased on private messages from the western belt, telling of much planting. Late in the morning prices were at 24 points. At this stage May was down to 24.48 and October to 24.70.

The weekly crop reports from the government were considered rather unfavorable, taken as a whole, especially in their mention of too much rain interfering with planting over wide areas of several states and this increased the effect of the rain reports of the day. Another bullish influence was a private bureau estimate of 60,000 bales as American cotton exports during March, against 500,024, during February and 519,761, during March of last year. At one time in the afternoon it was shown a show of pronounced strength, during which October rose to 25.12 and went to new high levels for the day, standing at net advances of 25 to 23 points.

New Orleans, La., April 11.—Spot cotton quiet and lower. The spot 74 bales; to arrive 10. Low middling 23.38; middling 24.13; good middling 24.63; receipts 3,309; stock 150,970.

News, Views And Reviews

Cotton Letter

New Orleans, April 11.—A large element in the trade seems to be selling on the basis of the theory that there is ample time for planting and a large short interest has undoubtedly been created by this selling. The map looks to us like we are in for several days, a more or less steady decline, but we might have a higher and better market the next few days in view of the probabilities of very bullish week-end figures and large consumptions—Fenner & Beane.

New York, April 11.—On opening cotton was for sale, but on the rally there developed a strong demand for July about 50,000 bales, the market being in a position favorable to an advance, but professional sentiment is distinctly bearish. Think purchase on sharp rise is advisable—Fenner & Beane.

New York, April 11.—Cotton gave a good amount of itself in the absence of what might be called as bull support. The market was clearly demonstrated to be at present a low of 24.25 for May to 30.00, the break today to 24.25 and rally thereafter. It is not clear whether the market is constructive, and while it may be to liquidate long positions on a sharp rally, the outlook of the market is not so bright. ### U. S. Government Bonds With One Exception Show Declines—Several Rails Drop.

New York, April 11.—Bond prices were irregular and confined to narrow limits in today's trading on the New York Stock Exchange. In the face of the relatively inactive market for listed bonds, new issues offered the public during the day met with ready sale.

United States government bonds, with the exception of the Victory 4 3/4's, which advanced 3/32 of a point, declined from 132 to 6 3/2 of a point. Foreign bonds were firm but inactive.

Losses of a point by Canadian Pacific 4 1/2's and 1 1/2 by Wabash first six were the only important changes in the railroad group. Traceries were heavy, but the market was not so bright as it was a few days ago.

TRAFFIC VOLUME OF U. S. CARRIERS HITS NEW HIGH

Washington, April 11.—Railroad traffic volume, which has set new records in successive weeks this year, touched a still higher mark, on the basis of returns compiled by the American Railway Association, during the week ending March 31, when 8,538,725 cars were loaded with revenue freight.

This total exceeded loadings of the corresponding week in 1922 by 116,917 cars. The total also was 21,693 cars in excess of that for the previous week of the present year.

The association indicated in a further statement that carriers were increasing their capacity to handle business.

The twenty-second infantry regiment, with the exception of one battalion, will leave Fort McPherson on April 20 for Camp McClellan, Alabama, to train for the entire summer.

Colonel J. M. Kimbrough, commanding officer of Fort McPherson, announced Wednesday.

Approximately 150 recruits to camp McClellan, Colonel Kimbrough said.

ADVANCES IN WHEAT July and September Score New High Price Records For Season—Corn and Oats Gain.

Chicago, April 11.—Sudden expansion of buying brought about a sharp advance in the wheat market today, with July and September deliveries scoring a new high price record for the season. All deliveries of corn and July and September oats outdid the season's previous top record quotation.

One of the largest shipping firms in Omaha was named as authority for an assertion that Nebraska's wheat crop this season would be only half of last year's total. The news was reported current and of security of farm labor in Ohio. As the end of the season approached, profit-taking sales were few, but were without any decided effect on prices.

Gossip that corn would soon be moving rapidly out of Chicago gave impetus to buying of that cereal. Selling, however, tended to strengthen the oats market.

Lower quotations on hogs made the provision market easy despite the rise in the value of grain.

Chicago, April 11.—Wheat, No. 2, hard, 1.21 1/2; No. 2, soft, 1.21 1/2; No. 2, white, 1.21 1/2; No. 2, yellow, 1.21 1/2; No. 2, red, 1.21 1/2; No. 2, black, 1.21 1/2; No. 2, green, 1.21 1/2; No. 2, blue, 1.21 1/2; No. 2, purple, 1.21 1/2; No. 2, brown, 1.21 1/2; No. 2, pink, 1.21 1/2; No. 2, gray, 1.21 1/2; No. 2,
